

BODY CREMATED AS WIFE; WOMAN NOW ALLEGES FRAUD

SENSATIONAL CHARGES IN DIVORCE ACTION

Mrs. Nellie Cordes Accuses Husband and Names Dead
as His Affinity.

SIGNED DEATH CERTIFICATE
OF 'WIFE' SHE DECLARES

Claims Spouse Did This in Attempt to Convey Belief
It Was She.

Dragging into the air of the divorce court the name of a dead woman who, she asserts, was cremated at the instigation of her husband under a name singularly like his own, with a view to leaving to the world the inference that the dead woman was his wife, Mrs. Nellie Cordes, in a suit for divorce from her husband, Frank Cordes, filed in Judge Graham's court in San Francisco this morning, presents one of the strangest affidavits of a like nature filed in this vicinity in many years.

BODY CREMATED.
According to the wife's claims the woman in question was buried in this city on January 25, 1909, from Taylor's undertaking parlor, under the name of Grace Bowman Cordes. Her husband, she asserts, signed the death certificate and afterward arranged for the cremation of the body at the Oakland Crematory. Previous to the time of the woman's death the wife maintains Cordes lived with the woman now dead, claiming her openly as his wife.

The circumstances surrounding the story are peculiar. That a woman named Grace Bowman Cordes was buried here on the date in question has been established. Further light on the death is afforded by Dr. D. B. Channel of 1018 Washington street, who maintains that during the month of January he treated a woman who called herself Mrs. Cordes. She was suffering from an incurable disease, according to the physician, and the night she expired a man, presumably her husband, summoned him to her residence at 674 Twenty-seventh street. The man of medicine arrived too late, however, and before he reached the house the patient was dead.

ACCUSES HER HUSBAND.
When it became necessary to sign the burial certificate the man untidily attached his name to the document and the cremation was effected. That the man who signed the death certificate, using the name Frank E. Cordes, is none other than her husband, Frank Cordes, of the firm of Barrach & Cordes, is Mrs. Cordes' allegation.

NO DENIAL SO FAR.
So far no denial has been made, and the wife in a further plea for divorce, alleges that her husband has spent the better part of a large fortune at the race track. This, she asserts, renders it impossible for her to judge of the sum of attorney's retainer here. She seeks an investigation of the defendant's financial standing at this date.

Mrs. Cordes' complaint is of an extremely sensational nature from start to finish. That her husband frequently accused her of never having been divorced from her first husband, a man named Hoch, is the wife's further charge, and Cordes, she asserts in conclusion, even insisted that she attempt to borrow money from her former spouse.

The case has been taken under advisement by Judge Graham.

Eugene Bert Taken
Suddenly Ill on Street

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11.—Eugene Bert, attorney, former state senator, and one-time head of the Coast Baseball League, was found in a dying condition this morning in a house at 1912 Fillmore street. He was first stricken on the street and then removed to a room. When discovered Bert was nearly unconscious and was suffering greatly from hemorrhages from the lungs. He is now at the Central Emergency hospital. Bert responded to treatment. He is but a shadow of his former self.

Bert is well known about the city. Several years ago he was found shot on the back porch of his home. The police were never able to ascertain whether the injured man fired the shot which laid him low.

SUPERVISOR JOS. M. KELLEY IS CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION

Popular County Official Is Strongly Endorsed by Mayor W. H. Noy of Alameda

Supervisor Joseph M. Kelley is a candidate to succeed himself, as will be seen by the following letter:

EDITOR TRIBUNE—Dear Sir: Having been requested by your representative to make a definite announcement of my intention in the coming campaign, I beg to advise you that after mature deliberation and consultation with many friends, I have been finally persuaded to again become a candidate for the office of Supervisor of the Third District of Alameda county, which includes the western portion of Alameda and the entire Forty-eighth Assembly District of the city of Oakland. I have represented this district on the Board of Supervisors during the past two terms, during which time I have consistently advocated and supported every movement for permanent public improvement, not only in my own district but throughout the entire county. The tunnel road between Alameda and Contra Costa counties, the Foothill Boulevard, from High street to Hayward, which is today the finest road in the State of California, and the new county jail, declared by experts to be the best constructed and equipped jail in the country, have all met with my full support.

WILL HELP HIS COUNTY.
While many of my friends have desired me to stand as a candidate for member of the Board of Equalization, and while I feel under many obligations to them for their promise of support in that contest, I feel I can do my own county greater good in the position of Supervisor.

I believe the next four years will be the most important ones in the history of Alameda county. With the settlement of the question of annexation and consolidation, great improvements are certain to be undertaken and I shall be glad if as the representative of the people I can carry out their wishes in making this the best and greatest county in the State.

I am inclosing a copy of a letter received by me from Hon. William H. Noy, Mayor of the city of Alameda, concerning my candidacy. Sincerely yours,

J. M. KELLEY.
INDORSED BY ALAMEDA'S MAYOR
ALAMEDA, Cal., Jan. 31, 1910.
J. M. Kelley, Esq., Oakland, Cal.—Dear Sir: You will probably recall a conversation between us sometime ago concerning your candidacy for Supervisor, in which I expressed the hope that you might again become a candidate for that office. As I then told you I believe it to be essential to the best interests of Alameda that you should stand for re-election to your present position.

We know that you have always responded heartily to any request made for your support on all projects coming before the Board of Supervisors affecting the good of Alameda. Especially do we believe that your project for constructing a tunnel across the estuary between Oakland and Alameda is one that appeals directly to every resident of our city. While it might appear impracticable to some at this time on account of the great cost of the work proposed, I cannot but feel that the good to be accomplished to both Oakland and Alameda will more than compensate the outlay.

APPEALS TO SUPERVISOR KELLEY.
If we are to expand we cannot be idle. It is our duty to conserve our resources as best we may—to be abreast of the times in all things and especially to develop our commerce.

Believing with you that the proposed tunnel between Oakland and Alameda will, more than any other one thing, make for the development of both places and realizing that with your experience on the board, your familiarity with existing conditions and your enthusiasm for the consummation of the work, you are best equipped to make the fight, I sincerely trust you may be persuaded finally to consent to serve the people as Supervisor for another term, and before that term will have expired I trust we may see your project completed.

Sincerely yours,
W. H. NOY,
Mayor of Alameda.

TWELFTH-ST. REALTY DEAL PENDING

For some time past a deal has been pending between the Twelfth Street Realty Company and George M. Perline for the transfer of a lot adjoining the St. Mark Hotel on the east side, having a frontage of fifty feet on both Twelfth and Nineteenth streets. Some complications have arisen in the course of negotiations which it is expected will be straightened out within the next ten or twelve days whereby the transfer of the property will be made to the Twelfth Street Realty Company for a consideration of $125,000.

Houses Swept Away and Men Drowned in Flood

VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 11.—Heavy floods prevailed in Australia when the steamer Makura, which arrived yesterday, left the Antipodes. At Tamworth ten feet of water flooded the town. Several houses were swept away and four men were drowned. Thousands of sheep and large numbers of horses and cattle were drowned. Heavy debris was swept through the town, smashing doors and windows and running the stocks in the streets. When the water subsided the streets were littered with furniture and debris.

FORMER GOVERNOR IS FATALLY INJURED

Lewis Wolfley of Arizona Is Struck Down By the Venice Flyer.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11.—Lewis Wolfley, a former governor of Arizona and prominent in the mining affairs of that territory, was struck and perhaps fatally injured by the "Venice flyer" of the Pacific Electric company at Sixteenth and Harvard streets in this city today. Mr. Wolfley was removed to the receiving hospital where surgeons held out little hope for his recovery, because of his age—70 years—and his great weight. He had suffered concussion of the brain, severe scalp wounds, the fracture of a rib and many bruises.

Mr. Wolfley was appointed governor of Arizona by President Harrison in 1899. He resigned after serving two years of his term, to engage in private business. Since that time he has been closely identified with the mining development of the territory. He located the first quartz mining enterprise in Arizona in Yavapai county—and another of his great enterprises was the Wolfley dam at Gila Bend.

Before his arrival in Arizona, Mr. Wolfley was collector of customs at New Orleans. He served with a Kentucky regiment in the Civil war although a native of Ohio.

His home is in Prescott, Ariz., but he has lived in Los Angeles more than a year, prosecuting his mining ventures.

CZARINA OF RUSSIA, NEAR DEATH, FAILS TO RECOGNIZE FAMILY

EVDTROUKEN, Russia, Feb. 11.—The Czarina's illness took a serious turn today and she was unable to recognize the Czar and their children.

She is suffering the recurrent hysteria and melancholia to which she has been subject for several years. It is feared that her death may be a question of but a short time.

Dispatches concerning the Czarina's condition are being strictly censored.

MADRIZ REIGN IN NICARAGUA IS NEARING ITS END

Victory of Revolutionists at Matagalpa and Boaco Considered a Death Knell

BLUEFIELDS, Feb. 11.—Upon the arrival of General Zedon at Moogan yesterday preparations were begun for another forward movement of General Mena's division, the progress of which was checked by the government forces in the recent engagement at Santa Clara.

Walter Gordon's aide has been despatched to Panama to recruit fifty more Americans who, armed with rifles, are expected to join General Mena in three weeks. This move suggests that there will be no further actual fighting until the reinforcement of American sharpshooters arrives.

General Matuy with 200 additional men is reported moving up the Mico river and is expected to for ma junction with General Mena in two weeks.

There is great rejoicing here over the news that General Chamorro had occupied Matagalpa, as that department is a fruitful source of supplies. The city of Matagalpa is but about seventy-five miles from Managua, the objective point of the Revolutionists.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—State department officials are greatly interested in the news from Managua that Matagalpa and Boaco have been captured by the revolutionist army. This interest especially attaches to the character of Matagalpa, as in all probability any further cause of apprehension on the part of the Americans in that part of the coffee growing section of Nicaragua has been removed.

The capture of the steamer Managua by revolutionary sympathizers is regarded as a serious loss to the Madrid government. The whole situation appears to be distinctly in (Continued on Page 2.)

Peary, discoverer of the North Pole is proposed by a sub-committee of the House committee on naval affairs. The sub-committee today unanimously approved the bill passed by the Senate making Peary a rear admiral.

PALMA, Marjorca, Feb. 11.—The French trans-Atlantic steamer General Chanzy from Marseilles has been wrecked on the North coast of Es island. It is stated that only a single passenger was saved out of all the persons aboard.

PARIS, Feb. 11.—The loss of the French trans-Atlantic Steamship Company's steamer General Chanzy is confirmed. She carried 75 passengers, besides a crew of 60 or 70, according to a statement made by the owners.

Only one person was saved.

LONG CLOSURE OF EIGHTH- STREET BRIDGE CONDEMNED

Ex-City Engineer Miller Reports That it
Can Be Opened to Traffic at Small Cost

For over a year the Eighth-street crossing of the north arm of the estuary from Fallon street to Fifth avenue has been closed to traffic, the trestle bridge having fallen into disrepair and been condemned. Instead of making temporary repairs so that the Eighth-street electric railway line and teams could use it while the Peralta Park marshland site was being filled in, the bridge was ripped out entirely and a temporary earth dam constructed to retain the dredgings from Lake Merritt; and since the park land has been raised to grade with the lake dredgings no effort has been made to provide temporary means for the resumption of street car and team traffic, although such can unquestionably be provided at nominal expense.

NEVER SHOULD HAVE BEEN CLOSED.
As a matter of fact, the crossing should never have been closed to traffic. There is evidently no good reason why it should not have been kept open while the park site was being filled in. As it is, the closure has been a source of great public inconvenience, not only to those using the street cars, but also, to the ordinary road traffic which passed over it before it was closed and which would use it now if the street were opened. In its present condition it is, moreover, tremendously damaging in its effect upon property on Eighth street west of the old bridge and in that part of East Oakland tributary to the crossing, as all of the traffic is now being diverted over the Twelfth-street dam.

Desiring an expert opinion of the situation which has been created by the closing of the street, THE TRIBUNE invited ex-City Engineer M. K. Miller to make a thorough inspection of the crossing and report on its condition.

M. K. MILLER'S REPORT.
Following is Mr. Miller's report:
EDITOR TRIBUNE—In compliance with your request that I examine conditions at the Eighth-street bridge and report to you the facts relative to the necessity of blocking street car and wagon traffic across this structure, as has been done for many months past, I beg to say I find upon examination that the site of the old bridge structure has been filled in with earth for about three-fourths of its length, the wooden structure itself either having been removed or covered with earth.

It is common practice with engineers in repairing or rebuilding railway or highway bridges sustaining regular traffic to plan and conduct the building operations with the view to non-interference therewith, and I am of the opinion that both street car and wagon traffic could in this case have been maintained at nominal expense during the progress of the work above mentioned.

AN UNSIGHTLY MESS.
In its present condition temporary provision for wagon traffic across the structure could be made for a few hundred dollars. Garbage has been dumped on the earth filling and it would be difficult to conceive of a more unsightly mess than is presented at this place.

The Eighth-street bridge has been a public thoroughfare for many years, and five or six hundred teams per day passed over it when open to travel; therefore, the economic loss to the community when closed would soon amount to a considerable sum of money.

M. K. MILLER, Civil Engineer.

Oakland, February 10, 1910.

GET TOGETHER, BUY POSTALS AND BOOST! BOOST! BOOST!

Every Citizen Should Mail Cards Tomorrow

Tomorrow is Post Card Day! Get out your list of names, and add all those you forgot yesterday, so that you will be ready for the cards.

Then buy the cards and send them on their return journeys to other communities, cities, States, or even other countries. Send all you can and encourage others to do the same, so that the million mark will be reached.

The Chamber of Commerce officials wish to point out again that the chief object sought to be attained by Post Card Day is the advertising of the city, and the securing of a list of people in all parts of the country and Europe who are in the least interested in Oakland and what it has to offer as a place for business and residence.

TAKES POISON THEN FIRES SHOT INTO BRAIN

N. E. Williams of Berkeley
Shoots Wife and Commits Suicide.

AWAKES IN NIGHT TO ENACT DOUBLE TRAGEDY

Woman Escapes Death After Narrow Call From Pistol
Bullet

After having lain awake half the night keeping watch over her husband whom she feared was about to commit some desperate act, Mrs. Ernestine Williams, weary from her vigil, fell asleep at 2 o'clock. Her husband, Nahum E. Williams, seizing the opportunity, secured a via of strychnine which he had concealed and after draining its contents, reached for a revolver and fired one shot at his sleeping wife, then placing the weapon in his mouth pulled the trigger, thus making doubly sure of his own end.

As a result the wife is in a precarious condition with a fractured skull caused by the impact of the bullet, which glanced across her forehead above and vertically with her nose, lodging in the scalp. Williams' remains were taken to the morgue, where an inquest will be held February 20th, providing the victim of his bullet is able to testify.

SURROUNDED BY MYSTERY.
The tragedy, which occurred at the family home, is surrounded with mystery. The Williamses, who had been living there for some time, were looked upon by the neighbors as being very peculiar in their habits. It was only a few days ago that a loud explosion was heard in the basement of the house and smoke seen pouring from the windows in the rear. Not long ago the police were called upon to investigate the escape of several pistol shots which were heard in that vicinity, but the cause and results of them, if any, have not as yet been cleared up.

E. C. Dole, business partner of the suicide in a grocery store which they contemplated opening at Telegraph avenue and Forty-second street, has been living in the house, as has also the daughter, Mrs. Elsie Allen, and a roomer by the name of Joseph May.

BREAKS INTO ROOM.
Upon hearing the shots, Dole stated that he rushed to the door, which was locked, and, bursting it open, found the wife getting out of bed and the husband lying therein. The weapon, an old .32 caliber rim fire revolver, was lying on the floor. He immediately summoned Dr. J. P. Metcalf of Oakland, who dressed the wound of Mrs. Williams.

OUT OF EMPLOYMENT.
Williams had lived in Berkeley for fifteen years and was a member of Lyon Post, G. A. R. He has for some time past been out of employment and dependent. He was a man of 55 years. His inability to secure employment no doubt led to the suicide and the attempt on the life of his helpmate.

Deputy Coroner Ed. Niehaus will make a thorough investigation. Dole will be called upon as a witness, and it is likely that he can throw some interesting sidelights on the tragedy. He stated, however, that preceding the shooting there had been no noise in the house indicating a quarrel.

Mrs. Elsie Allen, the daughter, was formerly married to Joseph Birnbaum of the Berkeley fire department, having secured a divorce from her some time ago. Her present husband, Jack Allen, has not been living with her.

Engineer Killed by Passing Locomotive

UTICA, N. Y., Feb. 11.—Albert Winne, of Bensenville, engineer of the Alton docks and Montreal express, was killed in his cab at Little Falls, early this morning. Engineer Winne was leaning out of the window, examining a lot of mail which had attracted his attention, and did not note the approach of an east-bound train. The locomotive cab of the approaching train struck him in the head, knocking him from the cab and killing him instantly.

RESUME FIGHT IN DON'T FORGET THAT HYDE'S DAMAGE SUITS POSTCARD DAYS TOMORROW

Lawyers for Alleged Slayer of Swope Scramble for Depositions

JUDGE CALLS FOR BEST MEN TO PROBE MURDER

Thinks Special Grand Jury Will Obtain All the Facts

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 11.—Following the sensational developments in the Swope case yesterday when Dr. B. C. Hyde was arrested charged with the murder of his wife's uncle, Thos. H. Swope, and a grand jury was summoned to convene tomorrow and make a thorough investigation of all the circumstances surrounding the Swope mystery, a battle of lawyers to secure the depositions of important witnesses in the damage suits brought by Dr. Hyde against John G. Paxton for alleged slander was resumed today.

In this civil suit Dr. Hyde demands $50,000 actual damages and $50,000 damages because Paxton wrote a letter to Stewart S. Fleming, an executor of the Swope estate at Columbia, Tenn., containing alleged slander.

PAXTON SUMMONED

Mr. Paxton had been summoned to appear at the office of Frank P. Walsh, Dr. Hyde's leading attorney, to give his deposition in the case today. It was believed that Mr. Paxton's testimony would occupy several hours. Members of the Swope family also had been summoned by Mr. Walsh.

At the present time the Hyde forces seem to have obtained an advantage in the taking of depositions. Mr. Paxton's attorneys can take no depositions today as they had subpoenaed witnesses to testify in another civil suit brought by Dr. Hyde which was dismissed yesterday as a part of the strategy of the Hyde attorneys.

The testimony of Dr. Chase Jowland of Kansas City, Kan., who at one time prescribed medicine for the Swope family, may be injected into the deposition taken. Effort has been made to summon Dr. Jowland, but he is ill with pneumonia and the subpoena servers so far have failed to reach him.

SEARCH, COLLEGE RECORDS

Since Dr. Hyde's arrest the records of William Jewell college, a Baptist institution at Liberty, Mo., from which Hyde was graduated in 1892 have been searched. It developed that Hyde's record as a student was excellent and that he was popular with his instructors and classmates.

Dr. H. G. Parker, present head of the department of chemistry at William Jewell college, who was a class mate of Hyde, was one of the best in the class. Dr. Hyde was elected president of the alumni association of the school last year.

Paul Maves, county marshal, was busy today in making up a list of the men to be summoned to serve on the grand jury which meets tomorrow. Discussing the call for a grand jury Judge Lathrop of the Criminal court said:

WANTS BEST MEN

"I instructed Marshal Maves to obtain a fair grand jury, to get men of good standing in the community so that their labors will command the respect of their citizens. The jury is to convene Saturday morning. This will be Lincoln's birthday, but is not a legal holiday and the jurors will be required to work."

"Although I do not believe in special grand juries as a rule, I think that one was necessary in this case. A special grand jury can be obtained at much less expense than can be done in any other way. There have been many theories and it would be very expensive to separate inquests when a grand jury can ascertain the facts in all at about the same time. The grand jury will run down every avenue of investigation and satisfy the people as to just what there is to the Swope mystery."

DID NOT BEGIN BEFORE NOON

The taking of depositions in Mr. Walsh's office did not begin before noon as Mr. Paxton, who was to be the first witness requested that he be excused from testifying until this afternoon. Paxton was called upon to assist in appraising the Swope estate so the amount of the inheritance tax due the State which will be turned over to the State university could be determined. He was engaged at this work all morning.

Dr. Hyde, cheerful and apparently unperturbed by the events of yesterday went from his home to Mr. Walsh's office to be present during the taking of depositions. The physician passed the forenoon in consultation with his attorney, on whose advice he refused to discuss the case.

"There's a Reason"

POSTUM CEREAL CO., LTD., Battle Creek, Mich.

Every Citizen Should Join in Mailing Postals to Their Friends.

BOOST FOR OAKLAND BY JOINING THE RANKS

"Get Together" to Be the Slogan in Campaign to Advertise City.

With the price set for the cards at 2 1/2 cents each, every citizen of Oakland should be able to send away at least two, and if every card is sent away it is conservative to estimate that between a half and three-quarters of a million people in various parts of the world will at least know that Oakland is large on the map and has something to offer them. There are thousands of people in every city and town in the East who need but a little encouragement and a little information regarding the conditions here to make them anxious to come to California to live.

REPLIES WILL BE SENT.

It is this certain proportion of the population now in the East that the Chamber of Commerce wishes to reach, and with several hundred thousand people going out, a certain number of them must get into the hands of people who can easily be shown the opportunities of Oakland and easily persuaded to take advantage of them. Such people have only to detach the second half of the card and mail it. They will be put on the mailing list of the library and correspondence bureau, and will be told all they wish to know about this city of opportunity.

The replies received from the post cards will be treated individually, and merchants and manufacturers and others will be told of the openings here for factories and stores, with detailed information as to location, condition, prices and other advantages. These subjects will be treated in a series of articles in the handsome illustrated booklet on Oakland which will go out with the first letter to those who return the post card.

OAKLAND'S ADVANTAGES.

In this booklet, the climate, resources, surroundings, and the hundred natural advantages of the city are spoken of, as well as the relation of the city to the great commerce of the Rocky mountains and the future of Oakland as the leading commercial and manufacturing city of the Pacific coast is pointed out as inevitable, and facts and figures are quoted to show that this city is now one of the most progressive in America. The arguments and descriptions are clear and logical and the facts and statistics are undeniable. The illustrations show beyond argument that Oakland is one of the most beautiful cities in which to live. The booklet is now off the presses and ready to be sent out.

The officials in charge of Post Card Day, including the zealous members of the Progress and Prosperity committee, declare that if the rank and file of Oaklanders get together tomorrow morning and "boost" with all their might, that wonderful results will be obtained.

JUST "GET TOGETHER."

"The get-together spirit is what is needed to make a success of the campaign," said a member of the Progress and Prosperity committee this morning. "And after a week spent in making all classes with the idea of inspiring them to work for the event which is for the good of the city, I am free to state that it will be forthcoming. I have found that the people who are preparing for Post Card Day are a fine lot of friends in the rank and file of Oaklanders, and I am sure that they will send cards. These lists will sometimes run into the scores, and many of the people who will hear of Oakland as the result of this campaign will be surprised indeed to hear also from friends from whom they had been separated for a decade or more."

"The real 'get-together-and-boost' feeling exists in Oakland, and all the people need is an occasion to give to give them a chance to exercise it. There are thousands of people who feel the strongest sentiments of civic pride and loyalty, and are willing at all times to do something for the city, but who have not in the past had the opportunity to participate in the movements for the public good."

"This campaign will show by actual figures that there are people exist in large numbers, that the feeling is almost general, in fact, it is simply a case of 'get together,' with everybody doing his part, no matter how small that part may be, even if it is only the buying and sending away of a single card."

EVERYBODY TAKE PART.

"This campaign was expressly designed for the purpose of giving everybody a chance to participate in the advertising of the city. It is a campaign of units, and no one should neglect to add at least one unit to swell the total. It is my personal opinion that there will not be a hundred people in Oakland who will not send away at least one card, and if this proves to be correct, the result will be satisfying."

"When the Chamber of Commerce officials decided to make the post cards for Post Card Day they could be sold for 2 1/2 cents. It was for the purpose of making the 5 cents which everyone can surely afford to do double service in the campaign. Five cents may bring two people in opposite ends of the country to live in Oakland, and this is the chief object of the campaign and the cheap cards."

"Get together and boost—that must be the slogan for tomorrow."

REALTY SYNDICATE BLOCK TO BE RAISED

Building May Soon Be Converted Into a Ten or Twelve Story Structure.

The Realty Syndicate evidently contemplated at an early day carrying out the original plan of running up the Realty Syndicate building on the east side of Broadway, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets, to the height of ten or twelve stories for office purposes. At present it is only a two-story structure. The walls and foundations have been built strong enough to carry eight additional stories, according to the original plans. If, after careful investigation, it develops that these foundations are capable of carrying the load of twelve stories, the building will probably be raised to that height.

ORDERS INVESTIGATION.

President Frank M. Smith has instructed his private secretary, Dennis Seales, to make an investigation to that end. Mr. Seales, before going out of town, made the following statement regarding it: "It has always been a pet hobby of mine to make a big office building out of the present structure, and I have broached the scheme so frequently to Mr. Smith and the others interested in the building that they finally told me to investigate and find whether the plan was feasible and what it would cost, and then make a report to them. I am now making my investigation, testing the strength of the present building and examining estimates of the probable cost of making the proposed enlargement. Although we have not definitely decided as yet to make the alterations it is probable that if satisfactory arrangements can be made the work will be commenced in the near future. If this is done the present building will be converted into at least a ten-story structure."

Actress and Affinity Evade Witness Stand

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Attorneys in the $100,000 suit which Mrs. Mary Hendrick has begun against Laura Bigger, formerly an actress, for the alienation of her husband's affection, started yesterday that they expected Dr. Charles C. Hendrick, from whom Mrs. Hendrick was divorced, to arrive here from Cincinnati today to testify.

When the case came to trial neither Dr. Hendrick nor Laura Bigger was in court. Their depositions had been taken in Los Angeles.

Santa Fe Negotiates To Buy Sierra Line

STOCKTON, Feb. 11.—The story is being told in Tuolumne county that the Santa Fe is negotiating for the purchase of the Sierra railway company's main line from Oakland to Tuolumne, a distance of about 60 miles.

The Santa Fe now operates a branch road from its main line near Modesto to the Sierra railway's line at the western terminus of Oakland, and the lumber shipments would make profitable business if it could be controlled.

The Sierra railway is said to be one of the best paying properties in the west for its mileage and has several good feeders, which supply large business.

Coroner Receives Letter and Sends Rescuer, Who Arrives in Time

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11.—The penning of a last despairing message to the coroner willing his body to a medical school, Edward George, a waiter of 732 Hayes street, deflected his purpose of suicide and brought about his own rescue as he lay awaiting death in his bedroom.

When Coroner Walsh opened his mail this morning he was astonished to find the following message which caused him to send a police officer on a hurry call to investigate:

"To the Coroner, San Francisco: You will find my dead body in the rear room at 732 Hayes street. I have drunk wood alcohol to end my life without money and without work. I want my body given to the Cooper Medical College after you are through with it. E. C. George."

Policeman J. M. Dwyer, whose beat is on Hayes street, was sent to the scene and running breathlessly to the door of the room, where he expected to find George's lifeless body, he quickly broke the lock and discovered the man still breathing. He had swallowed no less than a quart of wood alcohol, which he had taken in glass after glass. He was sent immediately to the Central Emergency hospital.

favor of the revolutionary forces and it is believed the end of the Madriz government is in sight.

WAY TO MANAGUA OPEN.

BLUEFIELDS, Nic., Feb. 11.—General Blandon died as he held in his hand General Luis Mena's order to stand and fight. A misinterpretation of this order by another held by the provisionals to be responsible for the retreat of their troops following their repulse by the government forces at Santa Clara. The insurgents do not admit defeat and declare that the way to Managua is open to them.

CAMPAIGN WELL PLANNED.

A review of the details shows that the campaign was well planned and energetically furthered. While General Chamorro was operating in the Province of Matagalpa, where he has since occupied the capital, General Mena with only 150 men and no field guns attacked the enemy's 800 strong and entrenched at a hill commanding Las Garitas. The enemy thereupon fell back, taking a stand at Santa Clara. General Mena pursued fighting continued on February 3 at long range without great damage. At 9 o'clock next morning the Provisionals made a desperate attack upon the fortified position of the enemy, being reinforced by the timely arrival of General Blandon with 200 men and one Maxim gun.

BATTLE WAGES.

The enemy's position was in the form of a semi-circle. Government troops had been reinforced overnight by 200 men and two Maxim and two Hotchkiss guns. These guns were well placed, and, using smokeless powder, could not be located definitely by General Mena. General Mena's right wing, including Gordon's American sharpshooters, took an exposed position within the enemy's semi-circle, while his left wing was sent to the rear of the enemy, at the foot of the steep hill. During the forenoon the fighting was chiefly between Mena's left and the enemy's right, the latter repulsing every attack. General Conrad of the Provisionals commanded the Maxim gun, which was posted in an exposed position 500 yards from one of the enemy's guns and 500 yards from the other. Back of the insurgents' gun was a little guard composed of General Blandon, the members of his staff and the half dozen men of Conrad's gun crew.

The enemy's nearest Maxim and

Justice Adjourns Trial Against Congressional Committee on Printing.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Whether the joint congressional committee on printing is an executive branch of the government outside the jurisdiction of the courts will not be decided primarily, at least, for two weeks.

Justice Wright, in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia today granted an adjournment for that period in the mandamus proceedings brought against the committee by the Valley Paper company of Holyoke, Mass., citing it to show cause why the bid of the company to furnish paper for government printing should not be accepted.

The congressmen of the committee, Allen F. Cooper of Pennsylvania, G. C. Sturgis of West Virginia, and David E. Finley of South Carolina, were represented by counsel, pursuant to the decision of the House reported last night to make a general appearance.

The senators of the committee, however, Jonathan Bourne of Oregon, Duncan U. Fletcher of Florida, and Reed Smoot of Utah, standing on the action of the Senate maintaining the action of the committee against the Valley Paper company, which he bid of the company to furnish paper for government printing should not be accepted.

one of the Hotchkiss guns had a perfect range on this little party and mowed down the heavy vegetation by which the Provisionals were partly concealed. It is considered marvelous that Colonel Gabriel Corrae escaped injury as long as he did. Two of his men were wounded early in the fight, one being shot in the leg and the other in the arm.

General Blandon constantly exposed himself as he searched the position of the enemy with his binoculars in an effort to locate their guns. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon he received a bullet in the spine.

GREAT MISFORTUNE.

The fall of Blandon was a great misfortune to the Provisionals. He had just received and read orders from General Mena when the enemy's nearest Maxim, having moved farther to the left, began raking the rear half-sheltered spot. General Blandon's body was accompanied to the rear by Colonel Roche, who declared that Mena had ordered Blandon to abandon the right wing and reinforce the left wing, which had been unable to make any progress against the government's position.

Colonel Conrad dismounted the gun and the column began to move for a new position in plain sight of the enemy, which quickly took advantage of the situation. General Mena saw the mistake and gave orders to the front of the moving column and ordered it back to its original position, which it was intended to hold at any cost.

But the time lost was fatal. Those who reached their former position found the enemy with two Maxim guns at a distance of fifty and one hundred yards, under cover, and pouring a murderous fire upon the position which the Provisionals were attempting to reassume.

Colonel Conrad directed his Maxim upon the nearest enemy, meanwhile receiving the cross fire of the government's three pieces.

General Mena, recognizing the cost of his mistake, ordered a retreat. The retreat to Moogan, ten miles distant, was conducted in perfect order, the enemy pursuing.

The loss to the government troops Four of Gordon's Americans were the last to leave the position of attack. Had General Zeledon with his four guns and 200 men arrived, Mena undoubtedly would have taken the aggressive, but Zeledon being late, Mena attempted only to hold the enemy's attention, deceiving them as long as possible as to the size of his force and thus weakening the resistance to General Chamorro.

The capture of Matagalpa is of great advantage to the Provisionals, who thus have been afforded a splendid base of supplies and reinforcements.

A chilly manner is not the best preparation for a warmer climate,

ALDEN ANDERSON TO SEEK NOMINATION FOR GOVERNOR

State Superintendent of Banks Likely to Oppose Curry—Belshaw Hard at Work to Beat Mott for Lincoln-Roosevelt Support

It is almost a certainty that Alden Anderson, State superintendent of banks, will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor. It is not unlikely that he will be named to oppose Charles Curry in the event that Senator Belshaw is given the Lincoln-Roosevelt League nomination.

Curry is going right ahead with his canvass. He is not paying any attention to what the Lincoln-Roosevelt people are doing. He proposes to make a straight Republican fight, declaring Diego, who will help him, that he has no doubt that Curry has a strong following. Personally he is well liked, and for years he has treated people courteously who have visited him in his office at Sacramento.

From present indications it would appear that if Mayor Mott does not get the Lincoln-Roosevelt League nomination, Anderson will make the run for Governor. But on the other hand if Mott is given the nomination Anderson will not run.

It is related that Belshaw is making a hurricane fight to round up the Roosevelt delegates to get the nomination. It is necessary for him to secure the two-thirds vote of the delegates present in order to secure the nomination.

It is stated that at the meeting last Monday when the vote was taken on the gubernatorial nomination, William R. Davis six and Mayor Frank K. Mott five.

JUSTICES OF SUPREME COURT.

The indications are that there will be a lively contest for Justices of the Supreme Court. There are two vacancies to be filled at the coming election, the terms of Justices Melvin and Sloan expiring on July 1.

Both of these gentlemen are candidates for re-election and are now making an active campaign among their friends. In the south two Superior judges have announced themselves as candidates for the Supreme Court, viz., Judge P. F. Wilbur and Judge W. F. James. The south is clamoring for a larger representation on the Supreme bench, the politicians claiming that they now only have one out of the seven members of the court.

WEINSTOCK ASKED TO RUN.

A dispatch from Sacramento states that an effort is being made to have Col. Henry Weinstock of that city endorsed as the candidate of the Lincoln-Roosevelt league in California, having delivered a number of lectures there. The colonel, when asked about his position today, he said that he did not believe he would be inclined to accept the nomination if it would come to him.

PERKINS WILL SUPPORT ARCHER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 11.—The letters explaining the protest against the appointment of E. H. Archer as United States surveyor of California have not arrived yet. It is stated that he is not a native of California, and that he is not a member of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League, or anti-machine element of the Republican party in his state.

HAYES AND THE MACHINE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Congressman Everis Anson Hayes of the Fifth District of California expresses unwillingness to follow the example of his brother, J. O., in declaring in with the Lincoln-Roosevelt League, or anti-machine element of the Republican party in his state. This must not be taken to mean that "Red" Hayes has any intention of siding with the Southern Pacific "organization" from which he received his first nomination. So far from that, he first stutters when the machine is mentioned. But, he says, he is not called upon for the present, to take part in

Piano Buyers

Every buyer of a Piano at any store of The Wiley B. Allen Company knows full well that he is wholly secure in his purchase; that the Piano or Player-Piano secured has been bought at the lowest possible price at which an instrument of that particular style and make can be had. He also is secure in the knowledge that the price paid, save for the addition of Eastern freight, is exactly the same at which the makers of the Piano sell it, whether in New York, Boston or Chicago. Besides, there is the added satisfaction of knowing that any Piano purchased of our house is backed by a guarantee that protects in the fullest sense of the word.

Misrepresentation finds no place in any department of our business. No salesman offers or shows a Piano on any other basis than an intelligent and honest statement of the character of its materials, workmanship and the reputation of the factory behind the instrument. Every salesman on our floors is a specialist in Pianos, and that knowledge is an asset of less value to our house than the integrity of our representatives in their dealings with the piano-buying public.

Every possible effort here is made to satisfy the buyer, and in all instances the same courtesies and the same consideration is shown as might be expected at the hands of your banker or your family physician. Honorable representation, fair dealing and meritorious Pianos, at lowest possible figures, are the foundations upon which the vast business of our house has been built. There has never been any other policy. There never will be.

If you would safeguard your own interests in the Piano you expect to buy, you can not afford to purchase without first having seen our stock and learned our prices.

BUCKDANCER WINS COURT'S SYMPATHY

Rastus Stewart May Escape Consequences of Being Too Handy With Knife.

Rastus Stewart, a diminutive son of Ham, who claims the distinction of being the champion buck-dancer of the Pacific Coast, was in the criminal department of the Superior Court before Judge Everett J. Brown this morning with an application for protection. He pleaded guilty to the crime of assault with a deadly weapon, and by the time the proceedings were over he had completely won the compassion of the court and the friendship of its officers by his ingenious words and actions.

The crime for which Rastus had been awaiting trial for several months in the county jail, is about as unique in circumstance as he is a character. He was sitting about the streets one evening when he came upon one W. J. Enos, an Italian, whose complexion was so swarthy and features so misleading as to lead him to mistake him for a friend of African extraction.

HEAVY FINE PAID, GETS HER BAGGAGE

Mrs. Edward V. Price Pays Dearly for Evading Duty.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11.—Mrs. Edward V. Price, wife of a Chicago clothing manufacturer of 255 Franklin street, Chicago, is preparing to leave the Fairmont Hotel to go to her home in the West. She will carry to her apartments in the Kenwood Hotel the many trunks which were added by the custom house officials upon her arrival here on board the Cleveland after a tour of the world. Price neglected to declare what goods she was bringing into the United States from the four corners of the earth, and when it was found that she carried away thousands of dollars worth of lingerie and souvenirs her baggage was seized and the millionaire's wife had a rather trying series of interviews with Collector of the Port Frederick B. Stratton and others of not so much official importance. But the custom man would not excuse her failure to declare her possessions on the plea of forgetfulness nor on the ground that her maid had failed in her duty in taking care of such small matters in the routine of life.

Fraternal Prescription For Nervous Wrecks.

(From "Medical Reports.")
Thousands of men nervous wrecks, have found the following "fraternal prescription" a blessing and a boon. Such men lack aggressiveness, they are timid, nervous, easily discouraged, lacking in self-esteem and confidence. They suffer from cold extremities, thin watery blood, nervousness, sleeplessness, frightful dreams, trembling hands and limbs, unsteady gait and an absolute inability to perform the ordinary natural and rational acts or duties such as any healthy, normal man can. A vigorous man works, plays, eats and sleeps always with the keenest enjoyment. The greater his exertions are, the stronger becomes his appetite and slumbers. The nervous man, seems always tired and worn out. Resting brings no relief. Sleep brings no refreshment. All because of an abnormal condition of the nervous system brought about by—well, no matter what the desire is for relief and freedom with rich red blood surging through the body supplying the nerves with all the power of sensation, so that sleep is refreshing food is delicious work is play and play is pleasure. This treatment is thorough, simple and correct. The ingredients are used in filling various prescriptions and can be obtained in any well stocked drugist and mixed at home without embarrassment or question. Obtain three ounces of "Crup" sarsaparilla compound in a six-ounce bottle. To this add one ounce of compound field balmwort and let stand two hours. Then add one ounce of tincture codonopsis compound (not codonopsis) and one ounce of compound essence codon. Mix shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one when retiring. In a vigorous bounding new-health takes hold of the tired exhausted nerves. Only a few weeks' treatment will astonish and rejuvenate, because the treatment is the right thing at the right time and contains no deceptive opiates.

ELECTROCUTED FOR KILLING OF EN- TIRE FAMILY

Howard Little of Virginia Is Electrocuted for Brutal
Crimes

HE LIVED THE LIFE OF A DR. JEKYL-MR. HYDE

Assassin Was Attractive Man and a Don Juan of the Villages

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 11. — Howard Little, who murdered Miss Bessie Justice, her son-in-law George Meadows and his wife and three children in their home near Hurley, Buchanan county, last September, was put to death by electrocution in the penitentiary here at dawn today.

Most murderers are executed for single murders; Howard Little has seven to his account. There were six in the butchery for which he was sentenced to die in the electric chair today, a man, two women and three children. The victims were Mrs. Bessie Justice, Geo. Meadows, Miss Meadows and three children of the latter couple, all killed together in Buchanan county one night last fall.

HAD GOOD REPUTATION.
Little was no ordinary "low browed" criminal. He bore an excellent reputation in the community in which he lived and a number of friends still believe in his innocence. His character appears to have been of the Jekyll-Hyde order.

Little is described as one of the handsomest men in the State, over 6 feet in height and weighing 236 pounds. He held the position of United States Marshal for the eastern district of Kentucky for a number of years. Except for his association with women, he carried himself generally without reproach. He was a sort of rural "Don Juan," however, and he himself declared that "women would be his ruin."

It was while in the office of United States Marshal that he shot and killed George McKinney in Eastern Kentucky and was sentenced to a life term in the Kentucky penitentiary.

WIFE WAS PRESENT.
He was pardoned after a short period and moved back to Virginia. There he became foreman for a large lumber company at Hurley, Buchanan county. While in this position he lived with the family of George Meadows. Mrs. Little and her children lived in the same house. Mrs. Meadows told the jury she was present when the murders were committed but she was not allowed to testify.

It was alleged by the prosecution, and believed by the jury that Little came home one night, killed the three Meadows children, Mrs. Justice and Mrs. Meadows with an axe and shot George Meadows as he ran from the house. Next morning the Meadows home was found in ashes.

Robbery was established as the motive for the crime. It was known that the family had kept a good deal of money in the house and Little afterward appeared "flush."

It is believed he intended to leave Virginia for good with his latest woman friend.

Shaves Off Moustache; Has Friends Guessing

ALABAMA, Feb. 11. — People in Alabama have been looking for James Fowler in the past few days and "Jim" has been cut by all his friends, all due to the loss of a gray Caruso moustache which he shaved off this week. Fowler even forgot to tell his family that he was to appear in the future with a new face and when he entered his house the other day an alarm was turned into the police station to send an officer to capture a bold burglar. Fowler came some time to quiet the women of the family and then explained that it was he, without the moustache. He takes particular pains to bow extravagantly to his many friends on Park street, but the return greeting is a gasp and a "the boy stars" has been handed by not a few.

Fowler says he doesn't know whether he is himself or not. By the way he holds his lip, he is trying to make up his mind.

TEN-YEAR-OLD IS MADE BANKRUPT IN NEW JERSEY

NEW YORK, Feb. 11. — Jersey justice has furnished the youngest inmate of a debtors' prison on record in the person of Bronislaw Nicomazek of Newark, 10 years old. He was locked up in the Newark jail yesterday on a body execution issued by Judge Benjamin F. Jones of the Orange district court for debt.

Several months ago young Nicomazek and some other boys were playing in the streets of Orange when Edmund Wilmaszek, 16 years old, and several other big boys, began teasing the smaller one. Finally they grabbed the youngster by the wrist after throwing his hat away and twisted his arm.

When Nicomazek got free he picked up a missile and threw it at his tormentors. Wilmaszek was hit in the head and cut. As a result his father brought suit against the smaller boy and the action was begun with a warrant for arrest. The court awarded $75 and costs, amounting in all to $85. In default of which young Nicomazek was locked up in the Newark jail. His lawyer several hours later secured his release by having him take advantage of the bankrupt law. The following inventory of the boy's assets was filed:

One pair of shoes, 10 cents.
One pair of stockings, 5 cents.
One suit, 50 cents.
One cap, 10 cents.
Total, 75 cents.

Liabilities, judgment in Orange district court, $85.35. The boy was in jail for about three hours and, in addition to being the youngest debtor prisoner in the world, is the youngest bankrupt. The machinery of the supreme court of the State will be necessary to adjust the matter.

"SHUT UP," REPLY TO DEATH WAIL

Sensational Allegations Made
By Mrs. Carothers in Divorce Complaint.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11.—Inhuman treatment and various stages of cruelty were described by Mrs. Mabel Carothers in her suit for divorce against William A. Carothers before Judge Canabise this morning, and $50 a month alimony. She declared that her spouse, who is a well known dance hall proprietor of Vallejo, had accused her one day of having a child, followed him and had choked her into unconsciousness. She told, too, how, shortly after they were married in Oakland, she had awakened up in the night feeling very ill, and had said, "Oh, Will, I think I'm dying. Please get me a glass of water."

"Shut up and let a fellow sleep," she claims was his reply.

THREE ARE HURT BY AN EXPLOSION

Gunner's Mates Hurt By Charge on Board Battleship Virginia.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—An explosion which resulted in the injury of two gunner's mates occurred yesterday on board the U. S. battleship Virginia while that vessel was firing a salute of Guantanamo. A charge, which was being hoisted into one of the Virginia's guns, exploded as it was being placed in the breech. Third Class Gunner's Mate G. Irben, who was working at the gun, had his right hand badly mutilated and the surgeons found it necessary to amputate the arm above the wrist. L. W. Brunner, another third-class gunner's mate, was severely burned about the face. No other men were injured as far as is known by the Navy Department.

Rear Admiral Schroeder, commander-in-chief of the fleet, has ordered an investigation into the cause of the explosion. The Virginia, with two other battleships of the Atlantic fleet, is engaged in maneuvers in the West Indies with Guantanamo as headquarters.

BATTERY CHARGE.

The charge of battery against Peter Redonovich, who so brutally beat his stepdaughter because she refused to forewear Nick Ballas, to whom she has since been married, was dismissed by Judge Smith this morning upon motion of Attorney W. H. O'Brien, prosecuting. Attorney Decoto said the prosecuting witness declared that it would be a hardship on her mother and a little brother, who were dependent upon Redonovich, to prosecute him, and that as she was now happily wedded to the man of her choice she was willing to forgive and forget.

ASSERTS HUSBAND IS A BIGAMIST

Margaret Anna Van Vroomen
Asks Annulment of Marriage.

Margaret Anna van Vrooman has instituted suit in the Superior court for the annulment of her marriage to Egbert Frank van Vrooman, on the ground that he is a bigamist. The woman also asks for the permanent custody of her 7-year-old boy, who bears the name of his alleged father; $40 a month for the lad's support and maintenance, and other financial relief.

Plaintiff tells the court that she and van Vrooman were married in Jersey City, N. J., on the seventeenth day of November, 1901, and that from this date until about the middle of September, 1903, they lived together as husband and wife. Then, for the first time, plaintiff learned that van Vrooman was already married at the time he led her to the nuptial altar, and that wife No. 1 was living and still the lawful spouse he had solemnly promised to love, honor and obey.

In her complaint wife No. 2 refers to wife No. 1 as Sadie van Vrooman.

WOMAN DECLARES SHE WAS BUNCOED

Mrs. Joseph Henninger Claims
She Was Swindled By
H. E. Walcott.

In a complaint filed in the Superior Court by Mrs. Joseph Henninger last evening, H. E. Walcott is accused of fraud and deceit in real estate transactions. Plaintiff sets forth in her suit that while she was ill she entrusted her business affairs to Walcott, and that while acting as her agent he induced her to trade property she owned for a house and lot on Boyd avenue. Afterwards, she asserted, Walcott told her that the trade was not a profitable one and advised her to make another trade for property in Hayward.

Mrs. Henninger further alleges that she authorized the Hayward transaction and that in due time Walcott once more informed her that the deal was a bad one, that later on she learned Walcott had upon his advice, he would give her $500 for that property. She accepted this compromise, believing that she was making the best of a bad bargain, and claiming that later on she learned Walcott had transferred the Hayward property to a man by the name of Hollenbeck for $2200, through his wife, to whom he deeded the property immediately after purchasing it from plaintiff.

Mrs. Henninger sues for $100, which is the difference between what Walcott paid her and what she claims he received from Hollenbeck. She also demands an accounting of all the deals Walcott made for her while acting as her agent and confidential adviser.

SEARCHING INVESTIGATION OF THE BURKE, SANATORIUM EXPLOSION IS IN PROGRESS

What the Late Assistants of Dr. Burke Have to Say About the Matter--His Relations With Miss Smith--Suggestive Correspondence--Looking for a Motive

SANTA ROSA, Feb. 11. — The investigation into the explosion of dynamite at the Burke sanatorium today centered in Berkeley and Orville.

District Attorney Lea went to Berkeley, taking a stenographer with him for the purpose of investigation. Dr. Warren Dillard and Dr. A. W. Hitt, Dillard resigned as chief clerk of the sanatorium following the explosion and gave the district attorney the facts upon which he is now working. Dr. Hitt formerly was a member of the medical staff of the institution and recently resigned.

Sheriff John Smith is making a close investigation at Orville as to the possibility of the dynamite having been obtained there.

The investigation in general now appears to depend upon the finding of proof regarding the manner in which the explosive was taken to the sanatorium.

The injured woman was reported to be improving today and it is thought that she will soon recover.

Lea is seeking to obtain evidence that would warrant him in placing the case before the grand jury.

SANTA ROSA, Feb. 11. — "We have been able to secure evidence which will play a very important part in the solution of the mystery which surrounds the blowing up of the tent occupied by Miss Smith and her son, but in the interest of justice I will not make the facts known at this time. I am more firmly convinced than ever that murder was attempted and am using every resource at my command to secure evidence which will preclude the possibility of a doubt of guilt before I take the matter up with the grand jury. Several important links are still missing in the chain of evidence, but I feel confident that they will be discovered within a very short time." Such was the statement made yesterday by District Attorney Clarence F. Lea regarding the mysterious dynamite explosion in a tent occupied by Miss Luella Smith, and her infant, last Saturday night at Dr. Willard P. Burke's sanatorium.

The district attorney admits that a bunch of letters written by Dr. Burke to Miss Smith, covering a period of several years, cut an important figure in the investigation which is being made. These letters were given to the district attorney by Miss Smith. They contain expressions of undearment and regard and were usually accompanied by a generous check or a promise of money. The correspondence between Dr. Burke and Miss Smith had been carried on surreptitiously, being carefully concealed from the members of the doctor's family. Dr. Burke, Alfred Burke, the doctor's sister-in-law it is learned also that when Miss Smith returned to the sanatorium last Friday shortly before becoming a mother, a credit entry of $400 was made in her account in the institution's books.

WORKING ON TWO LINES.

The district attorney's investigation is being made along two lines. He is endeavoring to account for the presence of the dynamite at the sanatorium, and he is seeking to get in touch with three attaches of the institution who left suddenly as soon as the news of the explosion was made public, or within the last three weeks.

These attaches were Dr. Warren Dillard, who was Dr. Burke's private secretary; Dr. A. W. Hitt, former head surgeon; Mrs. Lillian de Vilbiss, nurse; Miss Alice Smith, head nurse; Mrs. Eria Ninnis, nurse; Miss Ada Clark, nurse; Miss Blanche Schilling, nurse; Earl Edmonds, private nurse.

DILLARD'S STATEMENT.

Dr. Warren Dillard, Burke's private secretary and confidential man, who resigned on Wednesday and is now residing at Berkeley, in an interview said:

"Dr. Burke told me several weeks before the explosion of Saturday night that he feared Luella Smith would commit suicide. I asked him in what way, and he replied that she would be hanged. I thought it strange that he should have such fears, and asked him what made him think so. 'Oh, she is insane, and I think she will end it all by blowing herself up with dynamite or giant powder or something.'"

"If you think that way," I told the doctor, "why don't you have her carefully watched and search her room?" Dr. Burke said he would keep a close watch on her. I kept thinking the thing over but I didn't take any stock in the statement. It seemed too whimsical and far fetched.

NOTICE OF THE EXPLOSION.

"The night of the explosion I had gone to my cottage, which is about 100 yards from the main sanatorium building and an equal distance from Miss Smith's cottage tent."

"Dr. Burke had been in the office until about 7 o'clock in the evening and I didn't notice any difference in his usual demeanor. He is a very quiet man and keeps his own counsel. I had no conversation with him that evening except to ask him casually about his mires."

"When I got out to Miss Smith's tent Alfred Burke, the manager; Gene Maxwell, the nightwatchman; Mrs. Alfred Burke, and I think a Mr. Brown and Mr. Reese, who had been patients at the sanatorium, were there. Dr. Burke did not appear until later. He had remained with Earl Edmonds, some distance away from the scene of the explosion. Later, however, I saw him and talked to him and he said that he had expected it, referring to his former statement made to me about Miss Smith's probable suicide."

NOTIFIED THE SHERIFF.

"The next day I didn't like the looks of things and suggested to Alfred Burke that we notify the authorities. He said he thought that would be a good idea. Dr. Burke was told of the plan and opposed it. It was then I telephoned to the sheriff's office."

"A little later Alfred Burke called up the Sheriff and told him he didn't think it worth while to send anyone out to the sanatorium, as it was simply a case where a 'crazy woman' had tried to commit suicide."

"Dr. Burke himself wrote a personal note, in which he explained that he was positive that the explosion was an attempt of suicide on the part of the woman, whom he believed to be insane. He ended with a postscript saying that he 'thought the woman couldn't last more than three or four days, anyway.'"

"I've told the District Attorney everything that I know of the circumstances. Of course, I have a personal opinion, but I don't care to express it. I resigned because things had reached a point where everything was uncertain. I didn't care to be mixed up with an affair such as the explosion has stirred up."

BURKE PATERNITY ASSERTED.

"The woman time and time again while I was there declared that Dr. Burke was the parent of her child. Often she would rush up to him and place the child in his arms saying, 'Here, take your child.'"

"I was given orders by Dr. Burke not to allow Miss Smith to leave the grounds if possible."

"On the day of the explosion she had prepared to leave and was in the stage when Dr. Burke sent me out to tell her he wanted to speak to her at the office. I did so, showing her a personal note he had given to me. The stage drove off. Dr. Burke left the office by a side door without speaking to the woman."

"At 9 o'clock that night the explosion occurred."

DR. HITT'S STATEMENT.

Dr. Addison W. Hitt, former head surgeon at the sanatorium, who resigned three weeks ago and is now residing in Berkeley, said he feared Miss Luella Smith would commit suicide by blowing herself up by dynamite.

"The first time he told me of his fears," said Dr. Hitt, "was about December 20. We were in the office, where the big medicine case is located. I am afraid Lou is going to commit suicide with dynamite," said Dr. Burke. I asked him why he thought she would use dynamite and he answered: 'Well, I saw her looking in the medicine case the other day at the nitroglycerine.'"

"I laughed and replied, 'I don't think she could do that. Doctor, I've practiced medicine twenty years and I can't set off an explosion with a bit of nitro-glycerine, which is a very weak solution of the real article.' He didn't say anything more at that time."

BURKE SUGGESTS DYNAMITE.

"The second time was a week or so later, when we were out riding in a buggy. He again expressed his fears that the woman would end her life with dynamite. He didn't say anything further, except to repeat that he felt that that would be the way she would try to kill herself. He told me he thought she was 'crazy.'"

Dr. Hitt asked Dr. Burke directly whether he was the father of Luella Smith's child, and said Hitt, "he replied: 'I'm not the physical father, though I might be the spiritual one. Lou looks upon me as the father because of my higher mentality.'"

In explaining his reasons for leaving the sanatorium Dr. Hitt said: "I felt that something was going to happen. There was too much talk of dynamite to suit me." Also the sanitary conditions and other things at the place didn't appeal to me. I told Dr. Burke my reasons. He insisted that I just take a vacation and return. But I told him that I intended to leave for good."

"The following day Mrs. Lillian de Vilbiss, a nurse, left the place. She had told me she was going to leave because of the talk of suicide and dynamite and of the general conditions."

MISS CLARK'S STATEMENT.

Miss Ada Clark, the nurse who left the sanatorium yesterday morning, said in an interview at Berkeley:

"I helped dress Miss Smith's wounds. A few hours after the explosion she said to me: 'I hate to think of anyone doing this to me. I'm suffering terribly but never mind; they will suffer too. They will suffer enough with their own conscience.' Later she laughed when it was suggested that she had tried to kill herself. 'Do you think I want to die? Well, not yet. I didn't think he would do it.' She didn't mention any names and I didn't ask her."

DR. BURKE'S LOVE FOR LOU.

"Miss Smith had told me that Dr. Burke loved her more than he did his wife. 'He told me that he never cared for his wife,' she said to me some weeks ago; 'that I was the only woman he had ever loved. I trusted him and made the mistake of my life in coming here.'"

"After repeatedly trying to get away from the sanatorium Miss Smith one day went down and got in the stage to go to Santa Rosa. She had announced her intention of leaving. While she was waiting she was handed a note from the doctor. She showed it to me and it read as near as I can remember:

"Dear—If the means do not come tonight for you to go away and take your trunk I will go to Orville tomorrow and get them. So you remain until I return—Dr. Burke."

"The woman returned to the sanatorium and Dr. Burke went to Orville. He said he was going to secure some quartz from one of the mines which he intended to have minted in San Francisco and the currency given to Miss Smith's expenses."

BURKE'S ACTIONS.

"It was one week to the day that the explosion occurred. I was in the kit-

SAN PEDRO, Feb. 11.—Seven torpedo boats—the Rowan, Truxtun, Whipple, Hopkins, Stewart, Perry and Hull—started today on a race to San Diego. Each member of the winning crew will receive a prize of $10.

The Preble, Lawrence and Goldsborough of the flotilla started for San Diego yesterday. All of the vessels will return to San Pedro next Monday to resume target practice.

Hereafter the entire torpedo boat flotilla will make San Diego its headquarters. The supply ship Iris has arrived at San Diego with material and the construction of a permanent naval base on North Island has been begun.

HAND CRUSHED IN MILL.

BERKELEY, Feb. 11.—Ralph Carter, 1856 Sixty-third street, had his hand crushed in a milling machine at the Bryon Jackson Iron Foundry in West Berkeley this morning. He was taken to the receiving ward of the Roosevelt hospital, and the mutilated fingers were cared for by Dr. Robert Hector. It is not known whether it will be necessary to amputate.

Kitchen with Earl Edmonds, a private nurse, that evening. It was shortly before 9 o'clock when we heard the noise of the explosion. Mr. Edmonds rushed out into the yard and I went to the front of the building. Dr. Burke had entered the kitchen a few minutes before and had just walked into an adjoining room when the explosion occurred. I had seen him several times during the evening, but hadn't spoken to him."

AGED WATCHMAKER MAN, 2 WOMEN AND AUTO WRECK STORE

Despondent, He Snaps Trigger of Pistol Four Times in Attempt

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11. — Alone in a strange city, far removed from his friends, and despairing of building up a trade, Benjamin Sacher, a watchmaker, sixty-five years old, fired a bullet into his brain in his room, 1463 Ellis street, at 9 o'clock this morning.

"I leave $4 to buy a burying suit," was the only message left, and was written in German. The old man had determined to make sure of his end, and fearing that the out of date pistol would not do its work, had secured a bottle of sulphuric acid which he placed within reach.

Four times he pulled the trigger of the gun, and twice the hammer fell without discharging the shot.

Nervous himself again, Sacher pulled the trigger in succession, and one of the bullets inflicted a fatal injury. He was conveyed to the Central Emergency hospital but is in a serious condition.

He came here from Seattle two weeks ago, and set up a little store at 1807 Ellis street.

Sacher died just before noon at the Central Emergency Hospital.

Occupants of Machine Injured, But Refuse to Disclose Their Identity

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11.—Two women and a man were injured and the front part of a grocery store wrecked in an automobile collision on Baker street boulevard shortly before 2 o'clock this morning. The two machines came close together, going in opposite directions, and their chauffeurs, in an unsuccessful effort to avoid a collision, turned toward the sidewalk. One of the cars smashed through the front of O. J. Fladmark's grocery, 401 Baker street. Policemen Frederick came to the scene at the parties were leaving, and learned that two of the women occupants and one man had received severe cuts and bruises. They refused, however, to give their names and were taken to their homes.

Over-Eating Worse Than Starvation

Seven Deaths Arise From This Cause To One of Lack of Food.

A Trial Package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Sent Free.

An English medical observer claims that for one death to starvation there are seven from over-eating.

His investigation is appalling and leads one to believe that among the Anglosaxon race over-eating is a national crime.

This investigation proves over-eating to be the cause in ten cases out of twelve of dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach trouble.

These diseases bring on decay and decline of the other organs and death ensues because of an inability of the system to furnish proper nourishment to the dying and afflicted parts.

When one over-eats, one exhausts the gastric fluids, throws undigested food into the intestines, where it creates poison and germ life and is finally absorbed in a putrid state or thrown from the system in a decaying form.

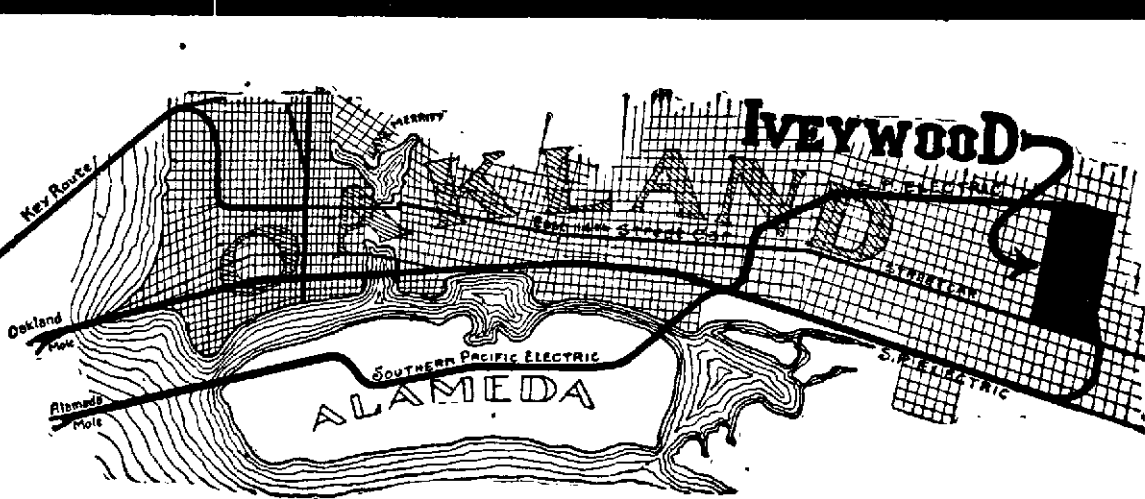

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will overcome the ill effects of gluttony and irregular eating. They will digest an abnormal amount of food and will not leave the stomach until everything has been digested.

A single one-grain ingredient of these tablets will digest 1000 grains of food and in this proportion is seen how even gluttony can be overcome or at least its most harmful effects removed.

Make up your mind to try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets for one week. Take a tablet after each meal and upon retiring at night. Every druggist carries them in stock; price 50c. If you have a druggist friend ask his opinion. Send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package free by mail. Address P. O. Box 110, Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Note the transportation facilities at Iveywood

In most communities the street car or interurban train does not come until the population justifies, but at IVEYWOOD it is just the reverse; transportation is here, in the street car—the electric interurban will be here this Spring.

And when this new electric train starts running real estate values in the East Oakland loop district will jump in price. If one will purchase two or three lots in this district now it will only be a matter of months until the extra lots will bring sufficient to build a home on the lot you retain.

The Southern Pacific electric interurban railroad from Alameda mole via Melrose heights will reach IVEYWOOD some time this Spring—in April or May—it all depends on rails. What are you going to do? Pick out a homesite now or wait till after the raise in price—it is entirely up to you.

fact
No. 3

The Peninsular Street Railway Company, a branch of the Southern Pacific, is now spending in the neighborhood of one million dollars to install an electric interurban service to Iveywood from the Alameda Mole.

This is not a proposed road nor an imaginary road, but a reality; the power house is constructed and one end of the loop is within two blocks of Iveywood.

The other end of the loop is at Melrose Heights and building toward Iveywood, which goes to show that the Southern Pacific knows the future of Iveywood—you will profit by taking this tip.

Visit Iveywood yourself, unattended by any of our men. Take your family along and view this property. Talk it over in family council; consider the location; examine the soil; note the excellent car service; inhale the pure air; see the Southern Pacific electric road; remember the building restrictions and view the surroundings. That is all we ask.

For an initial payment of $300 we will construct a house for you, according to your own plans, on which every lot you choose and the balance you may pay like rent. Think what it means to move into your own planned home in this exclusive residence district for such a small amount.

Come the first chance you get.

In Oakland all cars will transfer you to San Leandro or Hayward cars.

A Suffragette on Marriage.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt has laid down a proposition that is not likely to popularize woman suffrage with either women or men. She says the time will come when a woman who does not earn her own living will be regarded in the same light as is now any woman who lives by promiscuous relations with men. Mrs. Catt is president of the international organization for the attainment of suffrage for women, hence her words command more than ordinary attention—she speaks with authority. Her estimate of the marriage relation, its responsibilities and its mutual obligations, is therefore to be taken as the belief of a cult.

In Mrs. Catt's statement we find a guarded expression of the doctrine that political freedom or equality is conjoined to sexual freedom, and that both depend upon the submission of women to the same economic law that governs men. In this view the family becomes a mere partnership in which there is no division of responsibilities, nor co-related duties and obligations resting upon love and affection and the conditions imposed by sex and domestic association. It is the voice of the "free woman" asserting the obligation of self-support as a basis for emancipation of another sort which has to be diplomatically expressed not to offend the moral sense.

Putting aside the Christian dogma that marriage is a sacrament, the philosophy of modern civilization is that the husband should be the breadwinner of the family, while the wife does her full share as a helpmeet by suffering the pangs of maternity, caring for the children in a way no man can, presiding over the household and attending to the innumerable duties great and small which surround the domestic hearth with the comforts and joys of home and contribute to the happiness and general welfare of both parents and children. This concept has been imbedded in the law of every civilized country; and while women are still under political disabilities, their status is constantly being improved and elevated by laws intended to protect their rights without destroying the integrity of the marriage relation.

Mrs. Catt challenges this conception of the family compact. She places the wife on a level with the kept woman. She is making merchandise of herself if she does not support herself, must win her own bread or be branded as living by bawdry. That she can do her full share by fulfilling the duties of wife, mother, housekeeper and guardian of the domestic fold is not admitted. The idea that the family can be a single entity in which the husband and wife have different spheres of action and interdependent duties along separate lines is repudiated.

This is the song of the shirt sung in a new and strange key. It will not be music to many ears. It hymns not of true wifehood and motherhood, and that deep and abiding affection which sweetens the toil of the husband and the cares of the wife and cements around the domestic hearth a bond of sympathy and mutual dependence which takes no account of who actually contributes the most to the cost of supporting the family. Woman suffrage cannot be placed on such a hard and sordid basis. Out on Mrs. Catt. Scat!

The New Pullman Rates.

The State Railroad Commission has asked Attorney General Webb to contest in the courts the recent advance in Pullman sleeper rates. This is a good move. No reasonable justification has been given for the increase in rates.

Under pretense of equalizing rates the Pullman Company has prepared a new schedule which will return a larger revenue for precisely the same service that has heretofore been given. This is substantially an increase in rates under guise of equalization. The small reductions in the new schedule are merely sops to locality and give a sugar-coating to an increase that is entirely unwarranted.

For instance, there is absolutely no justice in advancing the rate between Fresno and Oakland and San Francisco from $1.50 to $2.00. The traffic is rapidly increasing between these points and the cost of the service is no greater than it used to be when the travel was much lighter.

The suggestion that the price of upper berths be made slightly lower than the price charged for lowers is both reasonable and just. Nearly everybody asks for lowers, and the preference has a distinct money value. People who insist on getting lower berths should be willing to pay a small premium for the exercise of their preference. For example, $1.75 for lowers and $1.25 for uppers between Oakland and Fresno would give the Pullman Company as much revenue as it gets from a flat rate, and would equalize the cost of relative comfort.

But in any event the increase in rates should be resisted by every recourse known to the law.

President Taft's determination to participate in the "back from Elba" demonstration has given a cold chill to some of the third-term shouters.

The Chinese New Year celebration is no more sane than the "Melian man's" celebration of the Fourth of July. In fact, the racket is louder and more intense.

The "insurgents" keep telling the President that they are with him and will stand for his policies whenever they are presented to Congress. Evidently the insurrection is not against the pie-counter.

San Leandro and Hayward are displaying the right spirit by dropping an ancient parochial feud and joining hands for mutual advancement. Hayward will assist in making San Leandro's cherry carnival a success, and San Leandro will help Hayward whoop it up on the Fourth of July. That's the way to do things.

Mayor Gaynor has fired a Tammany office-holder who made himself famous by drinking four quarts of champagne a day. His salary was $2000 a year. The Mayor thought a man of such luxurious tastes should not be required to work for such a paltry salary; besides, he couldn't see how the Tammany Indian could afford it.

The record of the rainfall this year shows a larger precipitation than that of the last season, and, what is of vastly greater interest to the farmers, fruit-growers and stock-raisers of the State, the rainfall has been more regular and evenly distributed through this season. The enormous volume of snow banked up in the Sierras promises plenty of water also for the miners, power plants and irrigation districts through the coming summer.

The complaint of the San Francisco District Attorney that he has no evidence sufficient to warrant him in prosecuting the trolley cases is absurd. Has he not Judge Lawlor? And cannot Judge Lawlor be depended upon to impanel a jury that will overlook such a trifling matter as insufficiency of evidence? Judge Lawlor is not to be deterred by trifles from doing his duty. Big Jim Gallagher may skip out and the District Attorney be left without notes or witnesses to back up a prosecution, but the judge sees no reason why the case should not proceed.

WOMEN

One of the newspapers in St. Louis made a discovery the other day. It found, in the Land Congress at Springfield, that "women are to aid in developing the State" and the man who handled the story regarded the fact as of sufficient importance to demand a place in the headline.

Women will help in developing the State, of course. But we would like to know who has brought the State to its present state of development, if the women haven't done it. For that matter, how much development would there have been in any part of the country if it had not been for the women?

Odd as it may sound, it is still true that the woman who helps most in the development of a community is she who is sometimes referred to as "a home body." It may be doubted if many realize what a tremendous compliment is being paid to the woman who is called "a home body."

It is the home, and what it stands for, that makes the land worth conquering. It is necessity and the love of labor which drives men into the boisterous channels of the world; but it is the home that holds him to his task.

The famous French miner who went to California in search of gold would have returned to the East, to the hearths they knew, if the women had not gone with them, or followed them, and established homes. And it would be absurd to believe that anybody but a woman could make a home. Man puts foundation and roof-logs in place, and it is a house. Woman crosses the threshold and smiles—and it is a home. And when the home is established the whole world revolves around the spot, and neither child nor man can drift beyond its influence.

AND THE GREAT PART THEY HAVE HAD IN THE WORLD BY THEIR SPLENDID WORK

Man has discarded the skins of beasts and the cave man's club and harsh speech—sometimes—because these things do not accord with the home. And if the women were not afraid of the insects in the forests, and liked to roam, untrammelled, across the world, there would cease to be anything really beautiful in life. Look what has happened in the case of the gypsies.

Women have always aided in the development of the State. Their hand has been on the lever all the while. And if woman ever decides that she wants to vote, we hope she will speedily recognize the fact that she will have to hurry back from the polls.—St. Louis Times.

Fair Women and How They Stir Up Lots of Strife

It takes fair women to stir up this prosaic old world, with its stupid laws and regulations, classifications, restrictions, tariffs and taxes. What a dull place it would be without them! Without them all men and their works could be pigeonholed with such monotonous precision that all interest would be lost in life. With them nobody knows what his neighbor is likely to do.

The navy just now is being dangled by its heels, just because of a slip of a sail. Of course, the young lady was perfectly innocent in setting things topsyturvy. It was not her fault that a married doctor took her picture when she was not looking. It was not her fault that a young paymaster in the navy should have resented the doctor's action. It was not her fault that the paymaster knocked the doctor down and that the doctor's wife brought the entire matter to the attention of the secretary of the navy.

Anybody who blames anything on fair women should be shot and quartered. It is not their fault that they have limpid eyes, like wet violets. It is not their fault that they are able to use those eyes to their best advantage. It is not their fault that they have clear skin and glorious hair. And certainly it is not their fault if men insist on acting foolishly about them.

Besides, what would murder trials, and especially divorce cases, be without women? In the masterful divorce, one of the country's most picturesque institutions would go by the board if there were no woman at the bottom of it. And women are every bit as necessary as divorce, and anybody who assaults them, no matter in what subtle guise, should be slapped on the ankle—Washington Post.

Bachelor's Musings

What a woman hates about society is when she can't get into it.

An easy way to get into trouble in an argument is to have it about politics.

The more children a man has the better other people think they could raise them.

Half the energy a man puts into his whims would make him a wonder if put into his work.

Hardly anybody is such an expert liar as the man who says he likes to work before breakfast.

Smoking Out the Harem

Oriental women are casting aside their veils. Even the rank and file of them are revolting against being penned up in harems.

The word harem is Arabic, and means privacy, seclusion. The confining of women in harems, that is to say, excluding them and denying them the privilege of talking with or coming in contact with men, excepting their husbands or near male relatives, is a Mohammedan custom, and harems are to be found existing in every country where the influence of the Moslem has been dominant. The downfall of the harem is the greatest good that modernism is accomplishing in Asia, and with it is dying polygamy.

A new order of womanhood is springing into being in all quarters of the Orient. Masses of Oriental women are willing, nay, eager, to share the responsibilities of public life with men. Moreover, they are willing to work with them shoulder to shoulder.

In every Asiatic country you see the "new" woman conducting special schools for girls and neighborhood centers for celebration.—Travel Magazine.

women of comparatively advanced ages. These institutions are designed to educate the present and rising generations of women to properly discharge their various duties. In these schools Oriental girls and women are taught what constitutes their real rights. Here they are also inspired to unflinchingly and steadily labor to obtain and maintain these rights.

Paradoxical as it may seem, the most favored and successful manner in which the Oriental woman carries on her propaganda work is through the channels of the newspapers and even magazines. In various parts of Asia, especially in China, India and Japan, women are conducting publications to further the cause.

Japan's Twentieth Century Woman, a radical monthly magazine, is edited by a woman, and many of her contributors are women. China has three flourishing publications edited by and for women. Hindustan is also a magazine for women. It is printed in English, and, started some two years ago, it has a large and growing circulation.—Travel Magazine.

JEWS ARE RETURNING TO LAND OF THEIR FATHERS

JERUSALEM.—The proclamation of the Constitution in Turkey has thrown open the doors of Palestine to the incoming Jews from all parts of the world. In Jerusalem alone four-fifths of the population (100,000) now belong to the Jewish faith, while at Jaffa, Tiberias, Safed and Haifa (Mount Carmel) Jews are reckoned by tens of thousands.

Almost the whole of the extensive plain of Esdraelon has been bought up by them. Their prosperous colonies spread from Dan to Beersheba, and even farther south to the outskirts of Egypt. Thousands are escaping from Persia to find shelter and protection in the Holy Land, while every ship from Odessa carries hundreds of them.

The Jordan Valley, once the property of the ex-Sultan Abdul Hamid, is being eagerly sought after by Jewish capitalists and syndicates. The Zionists, whose agents are distributed all over the land, are buying up the rich properties of the Mohammedan landlords, whose incomes since the revolution have considerably lessened.

The whole city is essentially a Jewish town. Banking as well as trade and commerce, is monopolized by Jews. The government has found it necessary to organize a company of Jewish gendarmes. Hundreds of thousands of dollars are annually sent from Europe and America to enable the colonists to build homes, hospitals, schools and invalid homes. Over 100 Jewish schools already exist in Jerusalem alone. Synagogues are rising up everywhere.

The value of land has risen fourfold. The ignorant and poverty-stricken peasants are being ousted from their homes and villages by the sharp European Jew settler, whose modern agricultural implements and methods have made the land produce harvests never before dreamed of by the natives. The Anglo-Palestine company, a Zionist banking and commercial enterprise, is pushing the cause of Israel with splendid determination.

The radical exclusiveness of the Jews and their clannish proclivities are arousing the opposition of Ottomans. The Turkish Constitutional regime has in this question one of the greatest problems that have ever faced a new and patriotic government.

MANNERS AND THE IMMIGRANT

We have recently written in these columns of the regrettable passive attitude toward the subject of manners on the part of many well-bred Americans, resulting, as it does, in a great impairment of the function which breeding should have in civilization. A weak indifference to the invasion of the peace and happiness of society by the vulgar, selfish, or untrained is not a small or negligible matter. There is, however, another point of view from which the daily intercourse of the world becomes of even larger moment: the effect that our attitude toward such behavior may have upon immigrants in their relation to our political standards.

At the gates of the new world what is the attitude of the immigrant? Is it the fundamental one of respect for the larger rights of others, of which we boast? Is it not rather one of disrespect for the minor rights of courtesy and politeness? Do not false notions of equality very soon rob their respectful demeanor and speech of its bloom? This being the case, how can we expect them to discriminate in the scope of their indifference between minor and major rights?

Those societies that are bravely and devotedly at work among the immigrant class, in their endeavor to bring it into consonance with the best American standards, may well consider the value of their work of beginning with the teaching, or the conserving of simple good manners. An Italian from the Basilicata may know little—and may be qualified to learn little more—of the American system of government, but he knows instinctively the part that manners play in life, and usually on arrival finds a better example of respect for others than his American neighbor. To establish respectful intercourse among all—respect toward the humble as well as from the humble—is to take the most important step toward making the immigrant a valuable American citizen.—Century.

Tandem Polygamy

"Tandem polygamy," the term used by the Rev. Dr. Farkhurst in referring to some of our prominent society women, is apt enough to find a place in the language; but a scientific man, with an eye in accuracy, would prefer to call it "progressive polyandry," although "progressive polyandry" would drive the average man to the dictionary, if it did not drive him to drink.

Polyandry is still practiced by tribes in Tibet, part of India, and the Pacific Islands. It is a style of marriage which may be useful in communities where there is a surplus of men. In other words, in this form of marriage each woman has several husbands.

What becomes of the mother-in-law under this arrangement is not clear, but many primitive tribes retain the mother-in-law taboo, which absolutely forbids, under many and dire penalties, the wife or husband to speak to or even to look at the mother-in-law.

The old-time practice is still followed rigidly by the Navajo Indians, in Arizona, who are polyandrous. Some arrangement of the kind seems to be regarded as necessary by primitive peoples.—New York American.

Ballinger-Pinchot Committee Decides Upon Taking Adjournment

PUBLISHERS INVITED TO PRESENT PROOFS

Two Declare That They Have No Information Given First Hand

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—After a session lasting less than an hour, during which the future conduct of the case was informally discussed, the Ballinger-Pinchot Congressional investigating committee today granted the request of Attorney Louis D. Brandeis for an adjournment until Monday morning next.

Louis R. Glavis, chief witness for the prosecution was not present when the committee met. Mr. Brandeis had telegraphed from Springfield, Ill., requesting the adjournment and it was known before hand that it would be granted.

ASK TO BE EXCUSED.

George W. Pepper, attorney for A. C. Shaw and Overton W. Price, who were dismissed from the forest service along with Gifford Pinchot, requested that a letter written by them to Pinchot, be received as their testimony and that they be excused, to permit of their leaving the city. The committee decided to accept the letter informally and to decide on Monday whether either Price or Shaw shall be called as a witness.

Special witnesses summoned from far western points have arrived and the delays in the hearing are causing them great inconvenience.

One of the witnesses present today was Henry M. Hoyt, attorney general of Porto Rico, who had just reached the city from the island in response to a request from the committee. Mr. Hoyt has been mentioned several times by Glavis as having given advice on matters affecting the Alaska coal lands case. Mr. Hoyt at the time was special attorney for the United States.

INVITE PUBLISHERS.

The committee has invited the editors and publishers of all the magazines that have recently been attacking Secretary Ballinger to appear and present any facts in their possession. Thus far two publishers have definitely declined, saying they had no information first hand in the matter, while a third has stated that he thought Mr. Glavis and Mr. Pinchot would give the committee more than he himself could produce although he stood willing to appear if requested. The hearing room this morning held its largest crowd, about 50 per cent of the spectators being women, who were deeply disappointed at the adjournment.

Friends Believe That Astors Will Make Up

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Failure of lawyers representing Mrs. John Jacob Astor to apply with the last three days for a confirmation of the interlocutory decree of divorce granted by Justice Isaac N. Mills has given rise to rumors among friends of Mr. and Mrs. Astor that the final decree may never be sought and that a reconciliation is possible.

Some of her friends believe the delay is due to the fact that one of her attorneys, Henry W. Taft, is at present in the West. On the other hand, she has other counsel in New York, and it has been the general custom of counsel in divorce cases to be prompt in having decrees made final.

When an attempt was made to see Astor his secretary said: "Mr. Astor has nothing to say upon the subject. He has left the city and will not return for a week."

POSTPONE INQUIRY INTO DISAPPEARANCE OF JIM GALLAGHER

The cases against George F. Duffy, John Martin, Eugene De Sabla, and E. G. Drum were put over until the same day, while those of which William H. H. defendant were continued until March 11.

CURING CATARRH

Accept Our Advice and Try This Remedy at Our Risk.

Catarrh is a disease of the mucous membrane. The mucous membrane is, one may say, the interior lining of the body. Catarrh therefore may exist in any part of the system.

When the catarrhal poison attacks the mucous membrane, inflammation and congestion are produced and nature fails to throw off the accumulated poisons. The organ which has been afflicted ceases to perform its proper function as nature intended it should. The result is, complication upon complication, which may lead to other more serious affections.

We honestly believe Rosall Mucro-Tone will do wonders toward overcoming catarrh. It is made from the prescription of an eminent physician who made a long study of the disease, and his great success with this remedy was an enviable one.

We want you if you are a sufferer from catarrh in any form, to give Rosall Mucro-Tone a thorough trial. Use it with regularity and persistence for a reasonable time, then if you are not satisfied, come back and tell us, and without question or formality we will hand back to you every cent you paid us. This is certainly the fairest offer that anyone could make and should attest our sincerity of purpose. It comes in two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain it only at our store—The Rosall Store—The Old Store, Inc., 10th and Washington, 13th and Broadway, 16th and San Pablo avenue.

Sometime tomorrow, or Sunday, you must go out and see GRAND AVENUE HEIGHTS

—Did you ever build a house, and after it was all completed wish you had built it in some other neighborhood?

—Did you ever buy a residential lot too hastily and live to repent?

—Did you ever say to your wife: "Why in thunder didn't we buy a lot in such-and-such a neighborhood? We could have bought one a couple of years ago for $1500 and they're selling now for $3500?"

—Ever have such experiences?

—If you HAVE been through the mill, you'll appreciate the wisdom of the following:

Be sure to investigate Grand Avenue Heights before you decide to buy elsewhere. If you don't you'll be doing yourself an injustice, for Grand Avenue Heights is today the most important feature in residential realty in the local market.

—It is right at the head of and overlooking Lake Merritt.

—It is within nine minutes of Fourteenth and Broadway.

—It is between the two most fashionable residential districts in the county—Adams Point and Piedmont.

—It is a high-class proposition protected by building restrictions with a minimum of $3500.

—The street work, sewers, sidewalks, gutters and curbs are already completed throughout a large portion of the property.

—Water, gas, electricity and telephones are ready for connection.

—There is nothing to wait for. You can begin to build at once.

—In fact, there are already about $100,000 worth of fine homes on the tract, some of them costing $8000 and $10,000 apiece.

—Grand Avenue Heights enjoys the finest climate in Oakland (and that means the best in the State). It is the greatest place in the world for children who can sleep out upon the sleeping porches 365 nights in the year.

—It is free from fog and heavy winds.

—The view is an inspiration.

—In fact, if this tract had but one-third the advantages we claim for it, it would still be worth investigating.

NOW LET US GET DOWN TO BRASS TACKS.

—Some day you will want a home in a good neighborhood.

—If you've watched the market at all you must know that it's going up and that the really good locations are getting scarce.

—You must see that if you wait much longer you'll run into a boom and be forced to pay more than you have to pay now.

—This property has been upon the market two years and we have not raised our prices.

—Today you pay the same prices we asked on opening day when $60,000 worth of lots were sold in forty-eight hours, and not a foot of soil had been turned in improvements.

—You get two years' start of the market.

—You get actual improvements instead of "promised" improvements.

—You buy in an established neighborhood, where prices are bound to go up.

—In fact, we are going to raise the prices ourselves right away. We are justified in doing it, and in justice to those who bought two years ago we ought to do it.

—This increase is to come immediately.

—We are not bluffing—we do not do business that way. We are giving you fair warning.

—The thing for you to do is to plan to see this property tomorrow or Sunday.

—Our offices will be open all day and our autos will be at your disposal.

—Or you can go direct to the tract by taking the Grand Avenue cars on Fourteenth street and getting off at Grand Avenue Boulevard. Walk up the boulevard about two blocks. You'll see the sign, "Grand Avenue Heights," upon the hill.

—Our terms are 15% down and balance at rate of $25 or $30 a month. Lots cost from $1500 to $2500, averaging about $2000.

COUNCIL FAVORS EIGHT-HOUR BILL

Central Labor Body Requests Congressmen's Support of New Resolution

Letters were mailed this afternoon by A. W. Selton, secretary of the Central Labor Council of this county, to Congressmen Joseph R. Knowland and Senator George C. Perkins at Washington, asking the support of these statesmen for the bill introduced into the house by Hon. J. H. Gardner and in the senate by Senator W. B. Borah, calling for an eight-hour day in all branches of government service. The matter is being taken up by the American Federation of Labor, which has invited all labor councils in this country to assist in securing the passage of the bill.

POLITICAL ACTIVITY.

In line with their proposed political activity in Oakland the unions have sent out word to their members this year to register under their occupations. In such a way that their union affiliations will be noticeable. In other words, bar-tenders are asked to register as such instead of as "salesmen," and other occupations controlled by unions are to be set forth in the same manner. This is done in order to show the strength of the unions in this city, which is estimated at over 10,000 votes by the leaders of the movement. Although this party to be formed by the labor men is non-partisan, the unions are closely watching the actions of officials, and their ticket will be made of men who have proved faithful in past conduct of office and of membership of unions. Several meetings of the councils will be held to further consider the formation of the labor party.

RUSH EXTENSION OF THE RAILROAD

Northwestern Pacific Busy Pushing the Line to Eureka

WILLITS, Cal., Feb. 11.—Track laying began yesterday on the uncompleted portion of the Eureka extension of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad three miles of which, running out of this town, were built just before the financial panic of 1907. Five hundred tons of rails are on the ground, sufficient for that portion of the road bed already graded. The contractors now have 250 men at work on the extension north of this section of the line and good progress is being made.

Considerable tunneling has to be done. Large forces of men are now working at both ends of tunnel No. 12, which will be 600 feet long.

COUNCIL TO CONVENE.

ALAMEDA, Feb. 11.—Matters of vital importance will be acted upon by the city council in committee session to night, and given official sanction in regular session Tuesday night. Railroad and other matters of importance, besides communications to the city, will be considered.

HARBOR IMPROVING WILL SOON BEGIN

City Engineer Turner Says
Livingston Pier Will Be
First of Projects.

The Livingston street pier and the docks along the south harbor front will be the first of the projects undertaken under the authorization of the bond issue, according to the statements of City Engineer Turner.

However, we do not anticipate that in any case we will be compelled to resort to condemnation proceedings as so far those who have been consulted are inclined to act fairly.

CITY HOLDS OPTIONS.

"We hold an option on the Pacific Improvement Company's holdings and other smaller parcels and the Oakland Gas, Light and Heat Company has agreed to take for its frontage on the harbor improvement company. The McGregor lands come in on the same basis. The Puget Sound Lumber Company are willing, I understand, to accept the same figure for their holdings. As yet we have not closed with the Remillard Brick Company or the Merritt Hospital."

"There are a few small holdings that are still in process of being negotiated for. I do not think that in any case there will be any delay or necessity for resorting to law. In fact I have been taking borings on the south front and will start in Monday digging a pit to determine the conditions of the substrata there to prepare the plans and specifications for the building of the projected dock system at that section."

QUESTION LOW TIDE LINE.

"We will be a little delayed in the western water front as the question as to what the low tide line means enters a difference of opinion between the city and the Oakland Realty Company. The latter has, however, been inclined to act generously with the city in the past in such matters and I believe they will not act differently in this case. They want a number of franchise extensions and I guess we can get down to reason with them."

"Things are being moved along in my department as rapidly as possible and the mayor and the city attorney are giving up their entire time to pressing things along. There is an immense amount of work in these projects and it is the aim of all concerned to bring everything about with the least friction possible and avoid the possibilities and delays of litigation."

Newly Elected Officers to Be

The movement to procure 1000 new members of the Alameda county Christian Endeavor Union will be launched at the union convention, which opened this afternoon with a prayer conference in the Friends' church, Fifty-second and West streets, where a three days' session will be held.

The opening session was presided over by Ralph S. Hawley, president of the Alameda County Christian Endeavor Union. The convention committee, which arranged the program consists of: Ralph Hawley, chairman; Miss Leda Gregory, B. H. McDonald, Alfred S. Dingie, Bert E. Hunter, Joseph Letter and Ralph H. Taylor.

The members of the senior, junior and intermediate societies of Alameda county will attend the sessions. The county union, which was organized in 1887, consists of 1800 members who represent the different societies of Christian endeavor.

HISTORY OF SOCIETY.

The first society was instituted twenty-eight years ago in the First Congregational Church by Rev. Dr. J. K. McLean, president of the Pacific Theological seminary. It started with fifteen members and now has an enrollment of 100.

There are forty senior, ten intermediate and eighteen junior societies in the Alameda County Christian Endeavor Union. The county officers are: Ralph Hawley, president; B. H. McDonald, first vice-president; Walter Frederick, second vice-president; Joseph Letter, third vice-president; Edwin Bothwell, treasurer; Ruth Killiam, recording secretary; Roy Wisecarver, statistical secretary; Lillie D. Crow, corresponding secretary; Miss L. Monroe, intermediate superintendent; Alfred S. Dingie, junior superintendent.

BUSY SESSIONS TODAY.

Paul C. Brown, field secretary of the California Christian Endeavor Union, conducted the prayer conference at the conclusion at 4.30 this afternoon. It was followed by a workers' conference directed by Ralph S. Hawley.

A basket luncheon will be served at 5.30 o'clock, an hour before the opening of the evening session, which will convene at 7.30. The devotions will be led by B. H. McDonald and during the exercises the intermediate society quartet will render selections. An address will be delivered by L. A. McLean, pastoral counselor upon "Mizpah." The important feature of the session will be the mapping out of plans for the county union for the year 1911.

Tomorrow evening the newly elected officers of the union will be installed by William Shaw, international secretary of the World's Christian Endeavor Society, who will arrive in this city Saturday evening from Los Angeles.

WILL BRING MORE PERJURY CHARGES

Fickert Declares Testimony in Conboy Case Needs an Investigation

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11.—The trial of former Captain of Police Michael J. Conboy was continued until 2 o'clock this afternoon when it was called in Judge Dunne's court this morning, owing to a death in the family of one of the jurors, Martin Mark. The juror, a notified Attorney Maxwell McNutt that the funeral was at noon and that he would be able to be on hand later in the day. The other jurors were asked whether they would like a continuance to Monday, but they declared that they wanted to go on with the case as quickly as possible.

The first sensation sprung by the prosecution in the trial of former Captain of Police Michael J. Conboy, accused of the murder of Bernard Lagan, was brought to a head last night when R. H. Blumberg, who confessed to District Attorney Fickert that he had perjured himself, was arrested on a warrant sworn to by Miss Margaret Lagan, a sister of the deceased, and booked at the city prison.

RELEASED ON BAIL.

He was immediately released on $1000 cash bail, and it is understood that the present charge against him will be dropped as soon as the grand jury can listen to the evidence against him and find an indictment. Blumberg, it will be remembered, testified to having witnessed the shooting, and to the alleged ferocious attitude of Lagan when Conboy was arrested on a warrant sworn to by Miss Margaret Lagan, a sister of the deceased, and booked at the city prison.

FURTHER CHARGES.

As the outcome of yesterday's testimony submitted in behalf of the defendant, District Attorney Fickert is responsible for the action that there will be two further charges of perjury. "Two of the witnesses who testified in the Conboy trial yesterday will be charged with perjury before the grand jury," said Fickert. "I have tried to be as fair as possible in the conducting of this case, and endeavored to give these witnesses the benefit of every doubt, but the circumstances are so flagrant that I am forced to the belief that they deliberately committed perjury and don't intend to stand for that sort of thing here."

Fickert refused to give the names of those he accuses, but stated that they were not members of the police force.

"When I married my husband I did not exactly care for him, but my folks liked him and I thought it would be all right. I thought he would be good to me, but he got mean and I couldn't live with him. I tried to, but could not stand his treatment. If he had been good to me, doubtless I could have learned to love him."

This is an extract from the testimony given in the Superior court by Nora E. Silva of Centerville, the 17-year-old wife of Frank K. Silva, a rancher, in her suit for a divorce which has just resulted in an interlocutory decree in her favor without alimony and the restoration to her maiden name, which was Gomez.

The testimony shows that the child-wife's marital experience was short and bitter. She was married to Silva in the Catholic church at Centerville on the tenth day of November, 1908.

We send pretty little paper dollies to set them upon, making them absolutely complete for service.

Order these tonight. Will be made tomorrow, Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday.

Last summer when peaches were at their very best we preserved 1000 jars of pure juice and next Sunday we are going to make you some ice cream out of this delicious peach juice, combined with cream. You've tasted the same thing when you've eaten sliced peaches and cream, so you know how good it is. Vanilla ice cream goes best with peaches, so the brick will consist of

TROUBLE BREWING AMONG DAUGHTERS

Southern D. A. R. Protests the Election of Officials in San Francisco.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11.—Southern California chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution sent messages to their sisters in the north yesterday, embodying a strong protest against the proposed action of the latter in calling a meeting to be held in San Francisco Saturday to nominate a state regent and state vice-regent.

It was decided at a meeting of southern California representatives to proceed with plans for the annual state conference to be held in Los Angeles beginning Thursday. No attempt will be made by the southern women to attend the San Francisco meeting and any action taken by the northern delegates, it is said, will be held to be illegal.

At the annual conference the Southern California delegates will ballot for regent and vice-regent and the names of their candidates will be sent to Washington independently of the northern choice should the protest sent today be ignored.

An attempt will be made during the conference here to revise the bylaws with the object of doing away with the state advisory board altogether.

Programs for the Los Angeles conference prepared by the northern representatives were received today.

Would Stop Sale of Ocean Shore Bonds

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11.—An attempt to prevent the unloading of foreclosed Ocean Shore railway bonds, which would react disastrously both upon bond holders and rehabilitators, was made in the United States Circuit Court yesterday by Receiver F. S. Stratton. February 17 the Western National Bank proposes to sell at auction in the local stock exchange 75 bonds of the par value of $1000 each. These bonds were given to secure a loan of $25,000, one-third their face value. Jake Rauer, the collector agent, notified the receiver that February 21 he was going to auction one $1000 bond, given to secure a loan of $638; for bonds pledged for $1987 and eight bonds on which was loaned $4175. The excuse is that the interest is overdue.

The White Sale of Embroideries

This sale started merrily a week ago and continues merrily, attracting multitudes of buyers—due, of course, to the merchandise and the immensity of the savings. That these are quality embroideries is self-evident upon inspection. And the values are made possible only thru the magnitude of the Hale six-store buying organization.

The entire stock is an importation, the output of Switzerland, but nevertheless priced in keeping with Hale's policy of giving a liberal return for your money. Embroideries may be had in many desired textures, widths and patterns at the White Sale prices, which in every instance allow the maximum of savings.

Baby edgings, insertions, flouncings, corset coverings, ruffings, frontings, etc., on Swiss, nainsook and cotton chiffon in eyelets, baby Irish effects, scroll figures, conventional designs, tiny French knots, Grecian borders, floral patterns, Van Dyke effects and novelty patterns, the needlework being especially fine and closely worked. White Sale prices per yard, 15c, 25c, 33c, 48c, 75c, 98c and $1.50.

Window Shades Reduced for Clearance 25c Each

A quantity of good window shades in many sizes and colors (being the accumulation of odds and ends from regular lines) and representing values far above the selling price, is reduced to but 25c each for clearance.

All are in good condition, mounted on self-adjustable spring rollers, and are made from good, enduring textures, some water colored and others are oil hand-painted opaques.

The house furnisher will find this a rare opportunity, for the shades are highly desirable and the reductions quite sweeping.

Window shades will be made to order. Leave word, write or phone to the drapery department and a representative will call at your home to take window measurements and estimates will be furnished. All work strictly first-class and satisfaction guaranteed.

Alien's Child May Be Her Living Passport

NEW YORK.—Mrs. Sarah Eusablis, a native of Switzerland, has been excluded from this country, but she may be admitted if she brings any of her three children to America.

The case is peculiar. Mrs. Eusablis lived with her husband five years in Massachusetts, where her three children were born. After her husband died she went back to Switzerland with the children and became the manager of a small hotel. She decided to return to Massachusetts and arrived here several days ago with only $35. Her exclusion was ordered on the ground she might become a public charge. But her children, who were born here, are clearly entitled to land if they wish. Therefore if Mrs. Eusablis will bring one of them with her she may be let in, as it is against the policy of the government to separate members of families except in cases of contagious disease.

After Matrimonial Spat Are Silent Five Years

CARDIFF, Mich.—Tiring of the long silence Edward Gruner and his wife, who for five years have lived under the same roof at 7003 Hancock avenue without speaking to each other, have sought relief in the divorce court.

Gruner is an appraiser employed by the Lincoln Trust Company. He states in his application for divorce that his wife was a poor housekeeper, and that when he made complaint about it she stood up in the corner of the bedroom all night.

Before Gruner and his wife ceased talking to each other, he states, she urged him to keep company with other women, saying that she did not care how many affairs he had.

The petition states that Gruner and his wife still reside at the Hancock avenue address, but that Mrs. Gruner has scorned all advances for reconciliation. The Gruners were married February 25, 1890.

Hunting for Bold Burglar, She Finds Pretty Manicure

Said to Be the Richest Woman in the World
Discovered in Cellar After Attack on Wife of Hotel Man at Arcola, N. J.

Latest photograph of Hetty Green, the richest woman in the world.

NEW YORK.—The discovery of Miss Clara Wilson, nineteen, a pretty manicure girl, in the cellar of a New York hotel, Arcola, N. J., shortly after 11 o'clock last night, following an attack upon Mrs. James Corkrey, Jr., by a burglar, has furnished a perplexing problem for County Detectives W. A. Blauvelt and Garrett Dawson of Hackensack.

These men were aroused from sleep early yesterday morning, and after several hours work on the case were thrown into a frenzy when a Corkrey refused to make a complaint against the mysterious young woman.

Miss Wilson, who says she is soon to become a chorus girl, lives at No. 266 West One Hundred and 115th street, Manhattan. Mrs. Corkrey knows Mrs. Wilson and agreed to let Clara come to her home to manicure. The girl spent a month at the Corkrey Hotel, one of the best known road houses in Northern New Jersey, on the main road between Hackensack and Paterson and Tuxedo. Two weeks ago the young woman disappeared but not before she had, by telling tales, succeeded in making trouble between Mr. and Mrs. Corkrey, according to the latter.

"Why, think of it, Clara told her step-mother that she could easily come between my husband and myself," said Mrs. Corkrey to the reporter and detectives. "I thought of this remark when the burglar hunters got a accidentally discovered Clara in our cellar at midnight. She said she had just got in the cellar when found there, and she had come to get her clothes, but Edward Terhune, a grocer, who joined in the burglar hunt, says he saw the girl near the hotel at 10 o'clock last night."

"Another thing, when I screamed for help when the burglar knocked me down while escaping, the men who came from the barroom found a woman's footprints in the snow on the front porch, and that was shortly after 9 o'clock. Detectives Blauvelt and Dawson took a shoe off Miss Wilson's foot this morning and say that it fitted the footprints perfectly. No other woman came to or left our hotel last night."

"If Clara came for her clothes, as she says, why didn't she come in our front door and ring the bell instead of going into the cellar? On account of the burglar and fire escapes our place was lighted up until 2 o'clock this morning."

Detective Blauvelt said that he does not connect the burglar and firebug which Miss Wilson's presence in the cellar.

"I think it was a strange coincidence, but there was no connecting link between the two cases. It was the burglar scare that kept the folks busy searching till midnight, and I don't think the girl knew of any scare," said Detective Pennett. "She may have had a reason for hiding in the cellar, but her presence was quite accidentally discovered in a search for the burglar. I think the burglar accidentally set fire to the mattress while searching through the room with matches."

Clara Wilson was subsequently arrested on a charge of breaching and entering and was arraigned before Justice Thomas H. Cummings who held her in default of $150 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury. She gave her address as No. 252 West One Hundred and Fifty-first street, New York City. The arrest was made on complaint of Detective Dawson.

WIFE IS "INARTISTIC," SO ASKS A DIVORCE; AFFINITY FOILS PLAN

NEW YORK.—Reinhold Koehler, cellist in Hammerstein's orchestra, young and quite evidently possessed of the artistic temperament to a high degree, is still tightly bound in the chains of matrimony—chains which he seems to have found particularly galling.

Koehler made a valiant effort to throw them off through the medium of the divorce court and rid himself of a wife who is remarkably pretty and charming. But he failed. And the cause of his failure was a most artistic effusion that came out of Hoboken.

The young musician told his story before Judge Halston and a jury yesterday. His wife was cruel to him, he said. She nagged him, she scolded him, she quarreled with him.

"Oh, this so cruel treatment!" lamented the musician, "so worked upon my nerves that I could not even practice with contentment upon my beloved cello. My wife had not the artistic and sympathetic temperament. I simply had to leave her."

John R. McLean represented the wife, Clarissa Koehler, and it was just as the musician had signed his last complaint that he upset all of Koehler's calculations. The pretty wife took the stand.

"We were married in Windsor, Canada, in February, 1904, and after traveling about the country settled in this city," she said. "It was only a few weeks after our marriage that letters began to come to my husband from women who admired him."

"And," interrupted McLean, "this is one of them, gentlemen of the jury?" He then read the following letters, which is said to have been written by a woman who lives in Hoboken:

"After long waiting I slept. We were walking in a beautiful garden. Pothos ordered with fragrant green plants and shrubs crossed and recrossed this limited place. All was peace and contentment. The air was soft and balmy; the light like early summer twilight. No trees interrupted the view, but the earth was thickly dotted with heaven's own blue and the green."

"Only one kind of flower grew in all this garden (as yet the name of this garden was unknown). Many people walked through these paths, shadowy shapes. You also walked with them, yet no word was spoken, no sound of breeze or bird. This did not seem strange, although as yet the garden was an unknown country."

"After long seeking I walked by your side and, plucking sprays of the dainty blue flowers which grew in such profusion, offered them to you. They were the blue Vergesmeilicht (jasmintine). You took them and passed on. Then I awoke and knew the name of the garden: 'Was Memory'."

The "Garden of Memory" was about all there was to it. The judge charged the jury and the jury found for the respondent, and Mrs. Koehler departed in a joyous mood. She lives at 1817 North Croskey street.

"Affinity," Aged 70, Is Sued for $10,000

CHICAGO.—That loves young dream may reach the age of three score years and ten before being rudely shattered was demonstrated in Chicago yesterday when an "affinity" 70 years old was sued for alienation of a husband's affections, and another husband, 84 years old, brought suit for $50,000 against the man he claims stole his wife.

So far as court records show, Mrs. Sophie Ahlgrim, 70 years old, who has been made the defendant in a suit for $10,000, is the oldest woman ever accused of making herself so attractive that a married man left his happy home for her company.

Mrs. Michael Webber, who since her divorce is known as Miss Caroline Warner, the plaintiff in the case, says in the suit filed in the Circuit Court yesterday that her former husband and Mrs. Ahlgrim used to stand in their respective windows and throw kisses at each other.

"He objected to having the window blinds down," said Miss Warner, "and I did not know the reason. Later I found that he and this woman used to throw kisses to each other across the street."

Mrs. Warner is 33 years of age and her former husband is ten years older. The woman got a divorce recently, on the grounds of cruelty.

"We used to run a butcher shop on West Twenty-first street, and that was where Mr. Webber met his affinity, who is almost thirty years older than he," explained the woman who seeks a heart balm. "For a long time I thought they were just good friends, but when I caught them throwing kisses I knew there was something wrong."

Moses D. Brown, 84 years old, one of the oldest attorneys practicing at the Chicago bar, filed suit in the Circuit Court yesterday for $50,000 against Webster G. Penny, a traveling salesman for a rubber concern. Brown in his suit charges Penny, who is over 50 years old, with alienating the affections of his former wife, Alice Brown.

He sets forth that Penny was guilty of alienating the affections of his wife in June, 1906, while she was living at their summer home in Ottawa, Minn.

While he was in Chicago practicing law Penny went to the house without his consent, he asserts, and became a sordid, continuous and pretended boarder and wickedly and wrongfully ingratiated himself into the affections of his wife. He alleges that on August 10, 1906, when he returned to Michigan to spend the summer vacation, his wife, in the presence of Penny, told him she did not want to live with him any longer, and that from then to the present time she has refused to live with him.

A Movable Feast

She has a biscuit-colored hair, With plumes of olive green. Beneath the mushroom crown so flat A bunch of cherries may be seen.

'Tis perched upon her chestnut hair Above her shining-pink gown, And from her little neck so fair A chain of oyster pearls hangs down.

Her coat is made of Persian lamb, And frogs are all the style. She doesn't mind at all the 'jam,' Because she's got 'em beat a mile.

And sallow, points of every size, Go floating round her feet When she goes minding down the street She looks just good enough to eat!

Two American Women Not Deterred by Floods

ATLANTA, Ga.—That the pluck of the American woman is superior to such trifles as floods and crippled railroads has been demonstrated by Miss Elizabeth Adair, who accompanied Miss Willa Holt Wakefield on her trip to Costa Rica and has returned to Atlanta.

Miss Wakefield was filling an engagement in San Jose, when the earthquakes and the floods intervened. Anxious to start their return trip to the United States they were informed railroad communication had been interrupted and it was impossible for them to leave. One road was open for a distance of forty miles, but was not carrying passengers. After much persuasion the officials let them go as far as the repair train went.

Then they induced other officials who were going on an inspection tour to take them on the hand car with them. Piling up their books and their hatboxes, they started on the hazardous trip. After forty miles they were stopped again. Here they were met by a special car with the president of the road, who took them aboard his car as far as Fort Limon, from which place they secured a steamer for Colon. "It was an interesting trip," said Miss Wakefield, "but never again for mine."

IDENTITY OF DEAD GIRL LIES IN WATCH

Sheriff Thinks it is Only Way to Solve Tamalpais Mystery

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11.—Detective Sergeant Proll, who has been investigating for the San Francisco authorities the murder mystery on Mount Tamalpais, was this morning detailed by Captain of Detectives Anderson on another case. Anderson asked Proll whether he had time to take up something new, and the officer informed his chief that at present there was nothing further for him to do in connection with the mountain tragedy.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11.—The last slender clue which may even yet prove the link in a chain of circumstances which will prove the identity of the woman whose body was found on Mt. Tamalpais, is the watch Sheriff Taylor of Marin county declares that the old-fashioned timepiece seems the only available material left in the effort to solve the mystery and all efforts now revolve around the bit of jewelry.

A heel of the girl's shoe was found yesterday on Mt. Tamalpais. This was buried in the rocky ground, where the bones were found. It had been torn from the shoe.

The spot where the skeleton was found is a mass of clams and mussels. The bones lay in a small open space on ground covered with small rocks. All through this soil are bits of the clothing of the dead girl.

WORK ON NEW THEORY.

Sheriff Taylor is now at work on a new theory, the nature of which he refuses to disclose. It developed today, however, that the evidence he has in hand relates to the disappearance of a San Francisco girl, who dropped from sight some time last June.

Friends of Mrs. Maria Temke of this city have given out the information that they believe her to be the murdered woman. Mrs. Temke has not been seen since last May. According to Mrs. Louise Schmidt of 172 Dorland street, the description of the Mt. Tamalpais victim is the description of Mrs. Temke.

Mrs. Temke lived with Mrs. Schmidt, who says she wore a blue tailored suit and dark blue straw hat when last seen. Mrs. Temke was the wife of Herman Temke, a sailor. He has written many letters to this city, asking about his wife.

OLDER THAN FIRST THOUGHT. According to experts, the dead woman is older than was at first supposed, the condition of her bones indicating a period of life extending over at least thirty years. That she was married, or at least a mother, has been further established.

Her clothing, which has been scrutinized painstakingly every day since the finding of the body, is the hope of unearthing a new bit of evidence, is slowly in the extreme, and shows a decided trend toward staidness and general untidiness. Before going forth on the day she met her death, the woman pinned most of her garments on without particular regard for appearances.

Pinned on to the narrow band of the skirt is a ribbon about an inch and a half wide, used as a belt. On one side a piece of the ribbon about a quarter of a yard long was looped and pinned on, evidently to hide a neglected rent in the skirt at that point. This loop was secured with a conspicuous white-headed pin.

The loop was just back of the left hip and would have been readily noticed.

SUPPOSITION AS TO MAN. The man with whom she made the trip was probably a member of her own class. He also may have been a Sunday worker at the tavern. She was likely a widow or was not living with her husband, as she wore nothing that a man would have been likely to give her.

If she had a child living her disappearance would not create an unusual stir if she had left her child with her mother or other relatives in some place other than San Francisco, and had but recently come to this city to better her fortune.

CHINESE NEW YEAR A BIG EVENT IN TWO BAY CITIES

Oriental Quarters of Oakland and San Francisco Are Ablaze With Color and Festival Is in Full Swing

The Chinese of both Oakland and San Francisco are in the midst of their new year's festival, the streets of the Celestial settlements in this city and across the bay are swarming with children of Confucius making merry in their own way and enjoying the festivities of the new year. Yesterday was "Dog's Day," according to the Chinese, and today is "Pig's Day." It is the belief of the Celestials that on these days all those souls which are destined to be located in the bodies of dogs after death are peculiarly blessed, and today the blessings of the gods are upon those who will be pigs in their new lives. Consequently the dogs had their day yesterday and today the pigs are taken special care of and protected.

The regular rule regarding the shooting of fireworks was adhered to yesterday and today, which is that no explosives are fired except before and after the two meals of the day. The Chinamen eat at 9 o'clock in the morning and at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and it is during these hours when the long strings of firecrackers are exploded. As a family finishes its meal the members repair to the front of the house or store and one of the number hangs up the lights the string of firecrackers. The lights stand around and take delight in watching the small crackers and large bombs explode.

AMERICANS IN QUARTER. This celebration was also the signal yesterday for the congregation of the occidentals in short trousers, and the Chinamen, who are missing, could readily be found in Chinatown picking around among the gutters and sidewalks for crackers which had failed to go off.

The Chinese of Oakland have no cathedral or temple and the shrines erected to the josses are to be found in all the homes on the business houses.

Yesterday and today they were all surrounded with candles, fruit and other offerings, which were kept lighted continually. Before the shrines containing this array was set a large table of a size capable of accommodating a dozen or more people.

Around the table yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, 9 o'clock this morning and 4 o'clock today, the friends and relatives of the housekeeper or store owner armed with chop sticks, their appetites whetted by an array of bowls containing conglomeration of food set in progress of the table. At each table could be seen nine or ten young people and three or four children ranging from tots just able to walk up to the boys or girls of 15 years.

With a total lack of manners and exhibiting habitual rudeness or exceptional gluttony the guests shoveled their food into their mouths with the aid of the chop sticks. From the table the trip to the front of the store was made and there on the sidewalk the long string of firecrackers were exploded. The party then split up and the members wandered about the rest of the town, calling on their friends and joining in their festivities.

BRILLIANT SPECTACLE. This was the scene in all the homes and stores of Oakland yesterday and in San Francisco the same methods were in progress and the same rule followed. Last night the Chinatown of San Francisco presented a most magnificent spectacle, a spectacle almost common to us here on the coast, but which is undoubtedly unknown to millions of people living in the States between New York and California.

The tongs and societies of the Chinese held their receptions and banquets last night across the bay and the headquarters of the Chinamen, as well as the Oriental restaurants, were filled to overflowing with the festive Chinese passing the greetings of the season and enjoying the gaiety of the new year.

The new year's season ends for the Christian Chinese today, while the holiday extends up to and through next Tuesday for the others.

Twenty-eight tons of fish were dumped into the bay this morning by Assistant Market Inspector Norman Denton, acting under the instructions of his chief, Dr. Archibald, of the health department.

The coming of the offensive cargoes, which were contained in fourteen vessels of the fishing fleet, was heralded by the order that long anticipated their arrival at the Franklin street wharf. City Wharfing J. B. Greer at once telephoned to Dr. Archibald, and Assistant was on the scene in time to greet the fishermen and inspect the cargoes before their lines were made fast. It did not require much of an investigation to determine that the cargoes were unfit for food purposes.

He took three of the fishermen into custody who were released upon depositing bail in the sum of $25 each. The cargoes were almost entirely composed of herring and were intended for sale in the markets on this side of the bay.

The fishermen alleged that only part of the catches exposed to the sun were diseased. Dr. Archibald declined to have the cargoes picked over and he furthermore declared that fish is so easily contaminated he did not desire to take the risk of causing an epidemic of ptomaine poisoning in Oakland and vicinity by releasing any part of the offensive piles of fish.

The condition of the fish was different from that condemned several weeks ago, on which occasion the amount was twenty-two tons, in that there was no attempt to conceal its condition by the fishermen, as was the case the previous time.

The fishers say that they came direct from the fishing grounds and attribute the fact of decomposition having so quickly set in to the weather conditions. Their losses as a result of the condemnation will amount to over $1000.

Flames Gut Tyson Home, but Spare Trousseau of Daughter

An interesting bit of gossip about one of the most generally anticipated weddings of the approaching Easter festival comes to light in the announcement that the fire which destroyed the interior of the beautiful home of the George H. Tyson at 1501 Central avenue, Alameda, during the absence of the family, Saturday morning, escaped just one room in the big mansion—that in which the exquisite European trousseau of Miss Jean Tyson, the pretty daughter, who is soon to become the bride of Harry Wilson of San Francisco, was kept.

The fire occurred in the early morning hours and before the fire department reached the scene every room except that of the little bride-to-be had been ruined by smoke. That Miss Tyson's boudoir escaped was due to the fact that before leaving home the evening before she had closed the door and opened the shutters and windows. And to this fortunate condition alone she owes a bewildering array of frocks and any number of snowy pieces of lingerie direct from Paris, which constituted her bridal wardrobe.

The entire family crossed the bay to San Francisco on the evening in question to attend a social event at which Miss Tyson was the guest of honor. Missing the last bus, all stayed at the home of their hosts until the night and it was not until their morning that they learned of the conflagration.

FATHER CHARGED BY HIS FAMILY

Wife and Children Declare Davies Failed to Aid Them.

A pitiable scene was presented in the police court this morning when the wife and four young children appeared as accusers against the husband and father, Charles Davies, a millhand, charged with failing to provide for those who are dependent upon him. The hearing of the felony with which Davies is charged was fixed for February 16.

He is said by Mrs. Lemon of the Associated Charities to be the laziest man in Oakland. He has been given every opportunity to get work at remunerative wages but, although he is husky and strong, he declines to toil and as a consequence his wife and family have been in dire distress when not aided by compassionate friends or the charitable organizations.

TRIES TO SHOOT WIFE AFTER ROW

Special Policeman Arrested and Charged With Assault to Commit Murder.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11.—Following a quarrel with his wife shortly after his return home last evening, Martin Lacey, special policeman residing at 2800 Twenty-second street, attempted to shoot his wife with his police revolver. John Lacey, the man's brother, seeing him draw the weapon, rushed to his side and drew his arm while Mrs. Lacey, plucking going to his assistance, pulled the revolver from the hands of her husband.

After being disarmed Lacey fled to a bakery at Twenty-second and Hampshire streets, where he was found by Policeman John McDonald, and booked of the charge of assault to murder. This morning, when his case came up in Judge Conlan's court he claims that he was intoxicated at the time and that he had been led to drink by the fact that his wife had turned over a piece of property that he had decided to her to her father, Thomas Rowan, of Oakland, and that he in turn had disposed of it to a party unknown.

NATURE WILL BEAT SUFFRAGISTS, HE SAYS

Dr. Walsh Declares That They All Drift Back to Domesticity.

HE QUOTES HISTORY TO SUPPORT ARGUMENT

Refers to Suffragette Play Written By Aristophanes, the Greek

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Nature will ultimately down the suffragists, according to Dr. James J. Walsh, dean of the Fordham University medical school.

Speaking before the National League for the Civic Education of Women—the anti-suffragists—Dr. Walsh declared that even if women were now granted suffrage nature would eliminate from the race all who were not exercising it in the course of three or four generations.

The speaker quoted history in support of his argument, showing how, in repeated instances, women had made intellectual matters to fall back again inevitably in the course of a few years to domestic duties, through the working of some unknown biological law.

Aristophanes, the Greek playwright, in one of his plays, deals with the woman suffering from nature. Dr. Walsh. "He tells how the women, disguised as men, seized the reins of government."

"Yet we always find that in three women in these intellectual movements drop out. There seems to be a biological law that the women who take an interest in things outside the home get bored with nature. They rub out quite smoothly, and we, in the midst of it, don't notice it."

Style Show Is Closed. WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The national style show, which has been held here for four days for the purpose of informing public opinion of America's origin of styles, as opposed to the foreign styles, closed last night to meet next year in Boston.

Girl Walks in Sleep. SANTA ROSA, Feb. 11.—A young woman somnambulist, clad in the scantiest attire, with the addition of a hat and an umbrella, appeared like an apparition in the residence part of the city night before last and was seen by several people who were going home after the theater. Some of them fled, believing that they had seen a ghost. Private John Thorne of the military company, rounding a street corner, saw the figure. "I saw," he cried. The woman gave a startled cry, awoke and fled. Her identity is wrapped in mystery.

Sweet Sixteen Elopes. PALERMO, Feb. 11.—J. H. Boydston and Miss Minnie Thompson, aged 16 years, have eloped, according to the girl's parents. Thompson had warned Boydston to cease making calls at the Thompson home, and knowing that consent of the parents could not be secured for a marriage, it is believed the two eloped. Thompson telephoned the county officers here today not to issue a license. Clerks of various other counties have been notified.

Market Street District Improvement Club Holds Meeting.

At a well-attended meeting of property owners and citizens, held last evening at 836 Fourteenth street, organization was effected of the Market Street District Improvement Club. Z. J. Kennedy was selected temporary chairman and E. H. Mayon temporary secretary. A committee on by-laws was named, consisting of Councilman A. P. Steffator, A. Silverstein and Jacob Flobush. A committee on membership was also selected, composed of T. McGulness, E. H. Mayon, H. J. Samuels, P. Sweeney and J. J. Kennedy.

The purpose of the organization was announced by Chairman Kennedy to be for the general improvement of what is known as the Market street district. It was pointed out that other improvement clubs in Greater Oakland had accomplished their ends and the members felt that there is not only room for a Market Street District Club, but a growing need of such an organization.

Short talks were given by Councilman at Large Oliver Ellsworth, Councilman Steffator of the Third Ward and Councilman Matt Bronner of the Fourth, and these officials assured those present of their hearty support in all projects that may be fostered by the organization, and that will inure to the future development and improvement of this growing district. The club will meet again on Wednesday night, February 16th, at 8 o'clock, at the same place.

Request to Run Ships on the Pacific Side Draws Opposition.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—"No one is asking the government to build railroads to break up the trans-continental combination. Why ask the government to establish air lines for that purpose?" asked Senator Brandegee in the committee on inter-oceanic canals today, during a hearing on the Flint-McLachlan bill for the establishment of a government-owned line on the Pacific coast.

A. P. Fleming, secretary of the Los Angeles harbor board, had stated that the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific railroads had combined to prevent San Diego from becoming an important port. As a result, he said, the Pacific Mail steamers did not touch San Diego and the Santa Fe broke an agreement with the Hamburg line, which had arranged to have a steamer call at that port.

NURSE GIVES LIFE TO SAVE HER BOY PATIENT

Miss Tessie Burns is Fatally Crushed in Elevator of St. Winifred.

CLINGS TO THE LEVER DESPITE TERRIBLE PAIN

Faithful Employee of Hospital Displays Self-Sacrifice of Calling.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11.—Fighting for the life of a little boy patient until her endeavor to stop an ascending elevator cost her own life, Miss Tessie Burns, a nurse at the St. Winifred hospital, in Sutter street, was crushed yesterday afternoon and died of her injuries last night.

Clinging to the starting lever, which she had grasped through the elevator door, she was drawn upward until her body was caught between the elevator floor and the door casing.

Inside the elevator were seven-year-old Jack Cutbert, the patient, and his mother. It was because she believed the elevator was running wild and that they would be injured, that the nurse fought to save them, not knowing that the automatic mechanism of the car would have stopped its ascent had she released the lever. Neither Mrs. Cutbert nor the child were injured.

BOY IN HER CHARGE. The little boy was in Miss Burns' charge, and at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon the nurse placed him in the elevator with his mother to take them from a roof garden to the ground floor of the hospital. The lad was in a wheeled chair.

When the elevator was stopped at the ground floor Miss Burns stepped from it, but found that she had brought it below the level of the floor. To change its position, she reached through the door and moved the lever.

IS FATALLY INJURED. The elevator began to ascend. It is estimated that several minutes after the lever was released, Mrs. Burns clung to the controller and tried to reverse it. When her body was crushed her hand was pulled from the lever and the car stopped.

Dr. Winslow Anderson and other surgeons of the hospital ran to the scene and after Dr. Anderson had climbed into the car from the second floor the girl was released. She had suffered injuries to the brain and spine, with hemorrhage, though there were no abrasions upon her body. She lived for five hours.

The young woman had been at St. Winifred's for five or six months. She was 25 years old. Her home was at the hospital. She had made constant use of the elevator and was supposedly familiar with its mechanism.

Petition Superior Court to Get Information From Henderson.

SEEKING A LIGHT ON SECRET TRANSACTIONS

Firm Member of McCormick-Henderson Company at Fajola.

Extraordinary legal steps were taken today by the McCormick-Henderson company of San Francisco, manufacturers and solers in building supplies, when it filed in the Superior Court a petition for information to secure the deposition of Walter Henderson, one of the principal members of the corporation, who is dying at Fajola hospital, covering alleged secret business transactions in which he has been involved and affecting the commercial integrity of the concern.

Never before in the history of the courts of this county has such drastic measures been resorted to in litigation for the protection of affected interests as those which have been adopted in this case. The petition recites that the McCormick-Henderson company contemplates the institution of a suit against Henderson for an accounting, and that fearing death will claim the former before the action can be brought to trial it is imperative that his deposition be taken to perpetuate his testimony in a litigation.

It is also set forth that Henderson is suspected of having improperly and unlawfully appropriated to his own use money belonging to the company, together with certain shares of the Union Safe Deposit company of Stockton, which were given to the company by A. O. Wright in exchange for shares of the own stock, and that the only way first-hand information can be had on these points is to secure Henderson's deposition, as death claims him and seals his lips forever.

The deposition of Mrs. Henderson is desired because the company expresses the fear that after the death of her husband she will get beyond the jurisdiction of the courts of California by leaving the State.

R. W. McCormick is the head of the McCormick-Henderson company, whose place of business is located at 22 Battery street and the petition it has filed is for "depositions in perpetuity," a title, experienced attorneys say, which will hardly ever appear within the cycle of many years. Henderson resides at 1762 Twelfth avenue.

Meek Hearing Put Off Another Week

The suit for an injunction against W. E. Meek and the Meek Estate Company of Hayward was set for hearing today in Judge Wente's department of the Superior Court, but was continued for one week. The town of Hayward seeks to prevent the Meeks from closing a water course, which it claims is the natural drain for storm water that collects in Castro street.

Reading from top to bottom are Harry Davis and Edward Budd, who will have charge of the dancing at the Young Men's auxiliary ball.

The Young Men's Auxiliary to St. Anthony's Church of East Oakland have perfected plans for the benefit entertainment to be given on February 21 in Maple Hall, for the purpose of raising money for the Y. M. A. building fund. The members of the auxiliary have announced a program which will contain five undivided numbers, which will be followed by a dance.

"The Littlest Girl," a dramatized version of Richard Harding Davis' story, "Her First Appearance," will be rendered by a cast composed of Edward C. McManus, John C. Calder, Harold Ward and Bertrice Kish. The scene of the play is laid in a bachelor's apartments in Berkeley flats, Fifth Avenue, N. Y.

Mr. Marie St. Clair will sing solos during the evening and the Golden Gate quartet, composed of Frank Onslow, first tenor; C. E. Anderson, second tenor; Mr. Teller, baritone, and H. L. Perry, basso, will contribute vocal numbers.

It is expected that several hundred dollars will be added to the building fund as the result of the performance.

BARON SCHROEDER LEAVING COUNTRY

Will Take His American Wife to Inherited Estates in Germany.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11.—That Baron Von Schroeder and his beautiful American wife are preparing to leave this country to take their place among the nobility of Germany to which their newly inherited title entitles them and that as a preliminary step they are negotiating with a Los Angeles syndicate to sell to it a 36,000-acre ranch in San Luis Obispo county, came to light yesterday. The price asked for the property is said to be in the neighborhood of $500,000.

The eldest son of the Von Schroeders already is living in London where he is engaged in the banking business with a wealthy uncle who is said to be training him as his successor in the business. Von Schroeder bought the ranch in question some twenty-five years ago after his marriage to Miss Donahue of this city. She was the daughter of Peter Donahue who left a large estate amassed in the railroad and iron foundry business.

VALUED AT $2,000,000
Valuable property in this city at First and Mission streets and a lot of houses out on Howard street and in other parts of the Mission district also the Hotel Rafael property in San Rafael, were investments of the wife and money, she, together with her brother and the widow, having been left goodly fortunes by Peter Donahue. All the properties are said to represent $2,000,000.

Negotiations, more or less advanced for the disposal of all these holdings are being carried on but just how and when they will be consummated cannot be predicted. Practically all the properties are mortgaged so this condition of affairs will materially reduce really get by a sale. Neither the Baron nor his American wife have made a success in business matters which accounts for the financial plasters on what they own. But this by no means signifies that the Von Schroeders are impoverished. The mortgages were contracted before the death of the Baron's father. By the latter event he has come into possession of an entailed landed domain in Germany which it is represented, produces a goodly annual income and also a large amount of personal property which includes income-bearing bonds and stocks.

PEEVED MAGNATE TURNS LOOSE ON THE UNIVERSITIES

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—Richard T. Crane multi-millionaire manufacturer of Chicago, in a volume just published, tells the results of an investigation into the methods, uses and expenses of "higher education" of all kinds. He charges that the millions spent annually on universities, colleges, technical and agricultural schools, and law and medical schools in general are swallowed up in one of the most gigantic "swindles" of the age.

Among other things he says "The college men talk as though they knew all about every other man's business and that they could manage affairs better than the business men themselves. College professors and teachers are prepared to give advice on all subjects. As $2000 a year teachers they tell us how to turn out $5000 and $10,000 business men. Isn't it a bit strange that it never has occurred to these smart college fellows to go into business for themselves? Why draw a small salary for telling young men how to draw big salaries if you are capable of drawing the big salaries yourself?"

Frank Golden Loses Big Suit in Nevada

RENO, Nev. Feb. 11.—One of the largest judgments given in the District Court in months was handed down by Judge Pike Wednesday afternoon in favor of Eugene Schuler, a contractor, and against Frank Golden, president of several defunct banks for $17,427.74 with $1000 attorney fees. It is further ordered that to satisfy the judgment the Golden Hotel shall be sold by the sheriff of Washoe County if necessary.

November 21, 1908 the Northwestern Construction Company entered into a contract with Golden for the construction of an annex to the Golden Hotel. Golden paid in various ways $48,579.97 leaving a balance of $15,312.60. The Northwestern Construction Company filed a lien on the property, transferred it to Schuler, and he commenced suit for the amount, with interest at $2108.60. The suit was stubbornly contested in the District Court.

MISS SEARS VISITS FRANCIS CAROLANS

Burlingame Wonders If She
Will Heal the Rupture
With Hobarts

Miss Eleanor Sears, a pretty society beauty who has been an unfailing magnet for the glare of the public spotlight, which has shone on her unwaveringly for many months past, is in California again. And her coming just at this time is the subject for a whirlwind of conjecture which hints at olive branches, a possible mission as a peacemaker, or the stand of a partisan strong and staunch. Which? Just now that is the all engrossing question.

Miss Sears is at Burlingame. She isn't with the Walter Hobarts this season. She is with the Francis Carolans and is to be the guest at Christmas and later at Del Monte. Thereby hangs the tale. For he is known there is a feud bitter and deep between the house of Hobart and the Carolans. It had its inception during Miss Sears' visit at the home of the former last year when Hobart pulled Carolans' ears in a dispute on the polo field. A long and warm friendship was instantly converted into a mere speaking acquaintance.

MAY RESULT IN PEACE

There has been no good excuse for a cessation of hostilities heretofore, but now that Miss Sears the friend of both families, is on the coast again is peace to be declared? Will Hobart humble his lofty pride and call on his last year's guest? Will the Carolans menage include him at one of their banquets? Or will they drift into the commonplace of a merely formal nod as they pass by? Just now, no one feels competent to decide.

CURED MOTHER AND DAUGHTER

An Oakland Woman Tells How She Found Dr. Williams' Pink Pills an Ideal Family Medicine.

Mrs. George Bolton, of No. 826 Alleen street, Oakland, Cal., who is a member of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, says:

"Twelve years ago I was taken with severe pains in my chest and shoulders. In a day or so the pains settled in my right limb. I suffered intensely and my limb became numb and cold as ice. I had to walk with a cane and could just drag my foot along. I became so much worse that I was confined to bed a good deal of the time. We lived on a ranch some distance out of San Jose and it was almost impossible to get doctors. So I wrote a letter to a physician whom we knew and described my case. He wrote that I was probably suffering from sciatica and sent me some medicine and liniment. His medicine did not help me and I was greatly worried. My foot was swollen and had no feeling. It seemed to be dead. I could not sleep without using opiates and as soon as their effect passed away I would have to scream because of the pain. I could not bear to have the clothes touch my limb and could not turn over in bed without help.

"I had often read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and told my husband to go to the city and get them for me. They soon helped me. They gave me an appetite, built me up and gave me a good color. I used them until cured and have taken them many times since, especially when I felt that I needed a tonic.

"When my daughter was changing from girlhood to womanhood, she was in very poor health. Her blood was impoverished. Her gums and lips were white and she had no color. The doctor treated her for some time but did not do her much good. I was afraid I would lose her and finally began to treat myself. I once more returned to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and a thorough trial restored her to health. I know of no better medicine for young girls who are in a weak and sickly condition when developing into womanhood.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists. They will be sent postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes $2.50. From Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Port Costa Notes

PORT COSTA, Feb. 11.—Much satisfaction is felt here in the awarding of the contract to erect the new county hospital to W. R. Ingram of Martinez.

It is understood that a number of San Francisco and Oakland capitalists are about to erect a large shoe factory on the site of the Nevada docks, which was burned a short time ago.

The primary election fight was opened today when W. Lullen, a candidate on the Republican ticket for the office of county surveyor, was out with his advocates.

C. C. Brown, a prominent attorney of Martinez, was a visitor here today.

The Southern Pacific ferryboat Solano, which was disabled a few days ago, went out of its course last evening, caused by the strong tide, and for a time it was feared she would land on the mud flats off Benicia.

J. C. Cotton of Martinez was a visitor today.

The X. S. G. W. are making arrangements to go to Martinez Saturday evening, April 2, to witness the initiation and participation in the banquet that will be arranged. All the parlors of the county are expected to send large delegations and candidates and their friends are expected to be present, besides the grand officers of the order.

The arrangements being made by the Owl club for their benefit ball, to be held on April 9, seem to be progressing very favorably. Secretaries and reporters there about 400 tickets have already been sold and the present outlook a goodly sum will be collected for the worthy cause for which it is given.

EDICT AGAINST STUDIES AT HOME

State Superintendent Hyatt Lifts Burden from Pupils.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 11.—A role against forcing pupils to study at home in evening, and another against allowing gifts to be presented to graduates, were dispatched to the teachers of the State today by Superintendent of Schools Edward Hyatt.

Hyatt says in part:

"All study from books that is good for the children can, as a rule, be acquired by them during school hours. It is absurd to see a little, thin-legged boy carrying home great arm loads of books at night. Moreover, when they take their studies home at night they are a nuisance to the family. Such a child gets slothful habits of studying, and thinks he is studying when he is only fussing. He does not have at hand the data often necessary to effect work.

"The ceremony of presenting gifts to graduates adds the plaudits of admirers is pretty, spectacular and altogether charming. But it must not be forgotten that the public school is the rightful home of all the people, and that among the people must always be many who can not have gold watches graduation day.

"I feel that no torment like the feelings of a sensitive child, who is publicly slighted before his mates—whose clothes are poorer, whose flowers are cheaper. It is regarded as humane and patriotic for high school officials to do all they can to obscure the pecuniary inequality of their students."

Price of Potatoes is Dictated by Combine

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11.—The Harbor Board, at its meeting held yesterday received a communication from John B. Walsh in which complaint is made against several commission merchants doing business on Jackson street wharf and refusing to sell potatoes in less quantities than fifty sack lots, and requiring the purchaser to take them away in one wagon load. The method complained of by small dealers and peddlers of potatoes and gives the more extensive dealers undue advantage in maintaining high prices, which the consumer is compelled to pay.

It is contrary to the rule established by the Harbor Board, which requires commission merchants to sell potatoes on the wharf in fifteen sack lots and deprives dealers of moderate means of the chance of earning a livelihood.

The board reported the complaint to its attorney and requested him to advise Chief Wharfinger Hender what action to take in the matter.

DENIES COST OF LIVING IS HIGH

Back to the Farm is the Best Solution of Problem of Existence.

FRANKLIN, Pa., Feb. 11.—"Be a farmer and snap your fingers at the monopolists," says O. C. Sigsworth, a Venango county farmer, "but if you must live in the city, then buy your apples when they are at rock bottom prices and make apple butter. Lay in fifty quarts of tomatoes when they are fifty cents a pack and preserve them."

"Take issue with those who say things cost more than they used to," he continued. "In 1873 I paid $1 for four pounds of green coffee, 12 1/2 cents a pound for sugar, 15 cents a pound for prunes and 25 cents a pound for rice."

"I paid $3 for a hat I could buy now for $1; $3 for gloves that I could duplicate now for $1.50; 45 cents a yard for checking for shirts; $10 for well-fitting boots and $8 for an ordinary pair of shoes."

"The wage earner is hampered by credit. He goes into debt for two weeks and his money has to be paid out the day he gets it. It would be better for him to go hungry for two weeks than never to have any money ahead."

"My advice to those who don't like life on a farm is: Drop style, pay your debts, buy for cash and look ahead."

FAMOUS REDSKIN CENTENARIAN DEAD

Almost Lynched 47 Years Ago, He Goes Peacefully to Hunting Ground.

SEATTLE, Feb. 11.—John Shihab, an Indian who asserted he was more than 100 years old and who was almost lynched by white pioneers forty-seven years ago, died at Port Madison, Wash., yesterday.

The body of a white man was found at the foot of Lake Union, in what is now Seattle, and the settlers ascribed his death to murder by Indians.

Shihab and another Indian, falling under suspicion, were captured by settlers and were about to be lynched when the sheriff and a posse rescued them. The Indians were acquitted and Shihab was ever after known as Lake Union John. He became a prominent figure in the village of Seattle, whose growth made a fortune for him through land sale.

—An invisible device that protects your glasses from ordinary breakage

Ninety-eight times out of 100 your glasses break across the hole drilled in the lens.

We have discovered a device that will save most of this breakage and so strengthen this hitherto fatally weak spot that it actually becomes the strongest portion of the lens.
The device, when attached, is invisible and it only takes about five minutes to make the installation, and as we make no charge we see no reason why every pair of glasses in Alameda county should not be equipped.

We call them "C. B." cushions and in order to introduce them we are attaching them free for any one who will bring their glasses in to us, making the offer particularly to non-customers.
—This is the first time to our knowledge, that an optician ever made a free distribution of a device calculated to reduce breakage, and the occasion serves to illustrate in a most practical manner the sincere efforts of our concern to make "satisfaction" an important element in "C. B."
service.

"Mizpah" Is Well Presented And Pleases Large Audiences

BLANCHE HALL as "Esther" in "Mizpah" at Ye Liberty Theater.

The presentation of Mizpah, Ella Wheeler Wilcox's celebrated drama that is being given by the Liberty Players at the Liberty Playhouse this week is one of the most creditable productions that has ever been offered by the resident stock players. Not alone from a scenic and costume standpoint is it a most commendable effort but the cast is one of adequate strength with the players working in complete harmony which brings out the full meaning of the beautiful lines the poetess has given to her characters.

Since it was played here before Mizpah is a greatly improved play the change having been brought about by its New York production. The text or the arrangement of the scenes has in no way been altered but the pruning knife has been judiciously applied to many of the long speeches that proved tiresome before. There is a coherency and swiftness of movement to the play that was obviously lacking in its former presentation here. The changes slight as they have been have made the play a far more interesting one and have added to the attractiveness of what the New York critics declared one of the most beautiful love stories the stage has ever known.

In singing out the individual members of the company for praise Blanche Hall and Sidney Ayres come first. As Esther the lovely Jewish maiden who rises to the dignity of Persia's Queen and the saviour of her people, Miss Hall is seen to better advantage than at any time since she joined the company and the same is true of Sidney Ayres who plays the role of the king. Each of them presenting a clear, intelligent and artistic characterization of the famous figures of ancient history and in a measure it is due to their individual performance that much of the success of the production is due. Although the turning of the key falls upon them Robert Harrison as Lord Homan and Marie Odell as Queen Vashti acquit themselves most satisfactorily in the heavy roles and Henry Shuman, George Friend and Cecilia Webster supply some unobtrusive comedy as the three wise men. The remaining characters are most acceptably filled by the other members of the company.

As heretofore the special music written for Mizpah by the late Liscomb Seawell is a most attractive feature and the songs are beautifully rendered by J. A. M. Miller. The play is to be given for this week only and can be most heartily recommended to Liberty theatergoers.

PULLMAN COMPANY DIVIDES $40,000,000

Twenty Per Cent Award Will Be Made to the Stockholders.

CHICAGO Feb. 11.—The directors of the Pullman company decided at a special meeting yesterday to give to the stockholders a stock dividend of 20 per cent on the corporation's $100,000,000 of capital. This will call for the issuance of $20,000,000 of new capital worth nearly $40,000,000 in the open market which will be given to the present shareholders without cost and will swell the company's total capitalization to $120,000,000.

Pullman stock pays $5 a share dividend each year and sells in the market at $105 a share, or almost twice its par value. This stock dividend of 20 per cent is about equivalent of 40 per cent therefore of the par value of the stock.
The declaration of the dividend at this time is understood to have been on the advice of J. Pierpont Morgan, one of the controlling figures in the company.
It is said to have been Morgan's idea that if the company contemplated increasing its capital in this way it would be better to do so before the passage by congress of some bill like the Federal incorporation bill which would make it impossible.

The dividend of $20,000,000 will make a total of $40,000,000 of stock which the Pullman company has given to its stockholders without cost in twelve years.
The original capital of the company was $1,000,000.

Cold Wave in South Damages Orange Crop

LOS ANGELES Feb. 11.—The damage to orange crops by the heavy frosts six weeks ago is much greater than was supposed.
Some experts say one-third of the crop was frozen in place, a direct loss of many millions of dollars and many forecasts to come. The market is demoralized by shipments of bad fruit and how to prevent the sending out of frozen oranges to the East is the great question.

The California Fruit Growers Exchange has been studying the subject for weeks and it is understood the ministers have about reached the conclusion that the only effective preventive will be to get a state law passed for the appointment of inspectors with authority to forbid the shipping out of any fruit until the human food. This would include frozen oranges.
The thermometer was lower at places in southern California this winter than ever before, registering 21 degrees in the range belt for an hour or two at night.

Came to Pacific Coast Before Gold Discovery

SANTA ROSA Feb. 11.—Mrs. Elizabeth J. Graeter, one of the oldest pioneers of the Coast, died at the home of Judge and Mrs. Emmet Seawell yesterday. She was the mother of Mrs. Seawell and came across the plains to this Coast in 1845. Mrs.
Graeter came to California shortly after her arrival in Oregon and made her home for a time in Los Angeles.

then at San Luis Obispo, and for many years in Mendocino county. She had resided in Santa Rosa for more than a quarter of a century. Mrs. Graeter was the mother of Mrs. Frank J.
Gould of San Francisco, Mrs. Emmet
Seawell and Mrs. Charles D. Johnson of this city.

While it is often impossible to prevent an accident, it is never impossible to be prepared—it is not beyond any one's power to invest 25 cents in a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment and you are prepared for sprains, bruises and like in-carries an appropriation of $1,641,220.

About $3,000 was cut from the extimate. The principal item turned down
